U.S. Jets Bomb Hanoi, Haiphong Areas

Paddock On 'Strip' A Club For Sale

The Paddock Club, an establishment in "The Strip" along Route 30 in Hancock County, is for sale at a price of $80,000.

The home of Art Lewis, owner, is situated behind the structure. The second floor of the building in the photo housed the former Jockey Club.

The club was constructed several years ago by Chuck Teemer after the nearby Club 30 was put out of business following raids by West Virginia state police.

Attention was drawn to the Paddock two years ago when FBI agents arrested 75 racketeers gathered there.

The club has been the victim of raids by Hancock law officials in connection with liquor violation and gambling charges in the past.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Air Force and Navy jets brought the air war closer than ever to North Viet Nam's capital and major port today, bombing major fuel depots three miles from the center of Hanoi and in the dock area of Haiphong.

The pilots reported the raids were "highly successful" with both storage areas in flames. Smoke rose 35,000 feet from the complex of fuel tanks near Hanoi and 20,000 feet from the Haiphong tanks, a U.S. spokesman said.

The Hanoi target "was covered like a blanket," he reported.

The U.S. Command said no planes were lost in either strike, but Radio Hanoi claimed four were shot down near Hanoi and three in the Haiphong area. The broadcast said several U.S. pilots were captured.

The air offensive in the Communist north, now in its 16th month, completely dominated the U.S. Command's daily war report.

In South Viet Nam, where thousands of U.S. troops are in the field searching for the Communists, "only very light and scattered, minor contacts" were reported.

On the political front, the threat of a Buddhist boycott of South Viet Nam's September elections diminished as more monks rallied behind the conciliatory policy espoused by the moderate chairman of the Buddhist Institute.

The growing support in the Buddhist hierarchy for Thich Tam Chau left his militant rival, Thich Tri Quang, increasingly isolated, but Quang showed no signs of abandoning his hunger strike.

Six flights of Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs struck the petroleum complex three miles across the Red River from the center of Hanoi, using 750-pound bombs during the 25-minute attack, the U.S. spokesman said. He said the area around the 32 tanks had no sizable population.

Four flights of Navy jets from the 7th Fleet carriers Constellation and Ranger raided the oil facilities at Haiphong, two miles from the center of the city. The spokesman said 95 per cent of the fuel going into North Viet Nam moves through the depots, which contains 38 tanks above and below ground. The raid lasted eight minutes.

A flight usually numbers about four aircraft.

The American pilots ran into intensive antiaircraft fire over Hanoi but said they encountered little flak in the Haiphong area.

The Communists did not send up any MIG fighters to challenge the U.S. fighter-bombers nor were any surface-to-air missiles sighted, the spokesman said.

U.S. planes have been gradually tightening a noose around Hanoi and its port, which lies 65 miles to the east. There has been pressure in some quarters in Washington for an aerial offensive against the cities of Hanoi and Haiphong themselves.

Only Tuesday, the White House declined to comment on reports circulating in Washington that President Johnson had canceled air strikes against Hanoi and Haiphong in the past five days because of security leaks.

The U.S. Command's communiqué on the attack said the destruction of the oil facilities would "make infiltration of men and supplies into South Viet Nam more costly and more difficult." It said the raids were ordered after consultation with the South Vietnamese government and were "consistent with our continuing policy of bombing only military targets in North Viet Nam."

They followed three successive days of bombardment of fuel storage areas in other parts of North Viet Nam. There were also three days of similar strikes last week.

"The petroleum facilities in Hanoi and Haiphong have become vital in supporting the mounting North Vietnamese aggression against the south and therefore are prime military targets," the communiqué said.

The Hanoi-Haiphong area is the heartland of North Viet Nam's small industrial plant and its principal population center. Hanoi has about 650,000 people and Haiphong 370,000. Many women, children and elderly persons have been evacuated amid repeated predictions by President Ho Chi Minh's propagandists that the two cities would be attacked.

General Set As Leader In Argentina

To Head Military Regime Following Ouster Of President

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Lt. Gen. Juan Carlos Onganía, a former army chief, is to be sworn in today as head of a new military regime which hopes to win over some of the Argentine masses still loyal to Juan D. Peron.

Onganía, 52, was picked by a three-man military junta made up of the present commanders of the army, navy and air force. They took control Tuesday after the army overthrew the civilian government of President Arturo Illia in a bloodless overnight coup.

The military gave no indication how long it intends to remain in power. Veteran observers predicted it will be several years before it permits election of another civilian regime.

The military, which overthrew Peron and sent him into exile in 1955, is determined to prevent the Peronists from returning to power. Its chief grievance against Illia was his failure to reduce the strength of Peron's followers, who won control of three of Argentina's 22 provinces in recent elections and probably would have won Buenos Aires Province in elections next March.

The junta said it plans sweeping economic, political and social reforms aimed at wooing Argentines away from Peronism. An estimated 20 to 30 per cent of Argentina's 12 million voters still recall with longing the benefits Peron gave them during his nine-year dictatorship.

The military said two of its main aims are "rebuilding Argentina's prestige abroad and modernizing the country."

Military sources said Onganía plans to streamline the cabinet traditionally made up of eight ministers and 12 secretaries. They indicated he will not name a defense minister or secretaries for the three armed forces. This would leave the army, navy and air force chiefs who make up the junta in complete charge of their respective services.

Onganía, one of Argentina's most respected officers, graduated from the Argentine Military College in 1934 and moved up through the ranks until Illia named him to command the army in 1964. An opponent of military involvement in politics, he played a large part in securing military acquiescence to the election in which Illia won the presidency.

Adventure Dream Shattered Boy Scouts Abandon Raft And Return To Wickliffe

Two Boy Scouts returned safely to their homes in Wickliffe Tuesday afternoon, their dreams of adventure on a 2,700-mile raft trip shattered against the hard realities of navigating the Ohio River on a homemade craft.

Ken Kobylski, 15, and Dave Pintar, 13, left their raft of lumber and oil drums moored to the Ohio side of the river near the mouth of Yellow Creek, below Wellsville. It was there that they finally gave up plans for a leisurely cruise to New Orleans and called their parents to come to the rescue.

The raft proved hard to handle in the choppy water kicked up by the screws of passing diesel tows, but it was repeated breakdowns in their 7½ horsepower outboard motor that caused the boys to abandon the trip almost within sight of the starting point.

Ken said the motor broke down for the first time off Jethro Hollow when the two boys were only about a mile from their starting point at the Broadway Wharf. After working about a half an hour to make repairs, they headed downstream again.

The fact their raft was lying dead in the water near Jethro Hollow led to reports they grounded on a sandbar, but actually the difficulty was with the motor, he said.

Want To Be General, Admiral?

By ELTON FAY

Do you think you might want to make the military a career, perhaps try after a while for an officer's commission? Some do. Many don't. The services are hot on re-enlistments, particularly of those with technical skills, and have two programs to encourage it.

One is the standard reenlistment bonus, for those above the first or second grades.

THE STANDARD re-enlistment program provides a bonus equal to one month of pay for each previously served year of enlistment, with a top of $2,000.

In addition, the services have something called the "variable re-enlistment bonus," aimed at providing inducement for technicians (those with "critical military skills") to stay in service. To qualify for this bonus one must have two years of active duty, not counting active duty for training purposes, be grade E-3 or above and have a military occupation specialty (MOS). The definition of critical skills change as new equipment or weapons come into use.

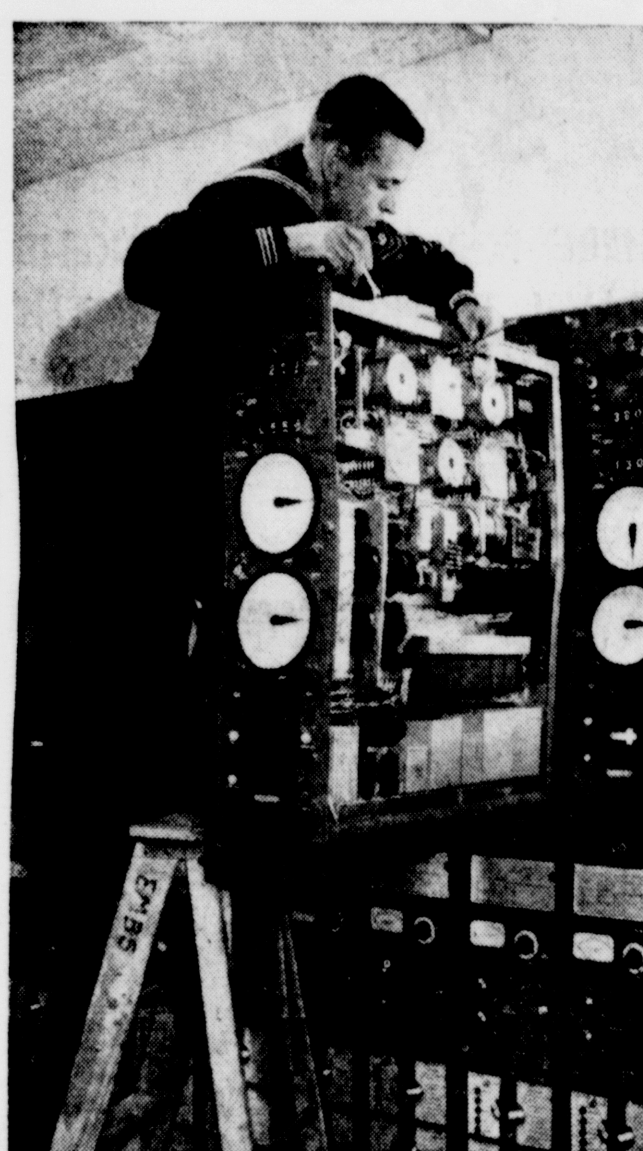

The combination of the standard and variable bonuses run into tidy sums as re-enlistments are repeated.

You have seen photographs of an old-time sergeant or navy chief trundling a wheelbarrow full of money. While re-enlistment bonuses may be hundreds or even thousands of dollars, wheelbarrow loads are rare and usually the product of some publicity officer caper.

MILITARY PAY goes up steadily with promotion in rank and length of service. A master sergeant or senior chief petty officer, who entered service about 16 years ago at a starting pay of less than $90 a month draws a base pay of more than $400 now.

Or, in the commissioned officer ranks, take a lieutenant colonel or navy commander as an example. He started out as a second lieutenant or ensign 16 years ago, with a base pay of less than $300. His base pay now is about $700.

Military pay isn't big, measured against jobs of similar nature in civilian life.

Many skills acquired in service are useful in civilian life as well.

Enlisted men in the regular or reserve forces may compete for a comparatively limited number of presidential nominations to West Point, Annapolis or Colorado Springs.

Graduates of the four academies — the Army's West Point, the Navy's Annapolis (which also provides officers for the Marine corps), the Air Force's Colorado Springs and the Coast Guard's New London, academy all have four-year programs.

The entrance age bracket for each is the same — 17 to 22. They are the military counterparts of a civilian college or university. The student body of each, with some exceptions, are men with no prior military service. Entrance is almost entirely by congressional appointment with rigid academic and physical requirements, except for the Coast Guard academy where entrance is by nationwide competitive examination.

Appeal Action Filed Against Amato Ruling

Mayor William Daugherty of Wellsville, Safety - Service Director Fred Baldasare and the city's Civil Service Commission have filed notice of appeal to the Ohio Supreme Court in a long-standing police case.

The Seventh District Court of Appeals May 26 affirmed a judgment returned Jan. 26, 1965, by Common Pleas Court Judge Joel H. Sharp at Lisbon in favor of Charles F. Amato, Wellsville policeman.

Amato filed the case in March 1964, asking the court to declare him a regular patrolman instead of an extra. Concluding a nine-day trial, Judge Sharp declared Amato had been a regular policeman since Sept. 2, 1963.

The notice of appeal to the state court was filed Monday in the clerk of courts office and is subject to acceptance by the Supreme Court. Answers to appeal motions have taken as long as four months in some cases.

Smashing Victory Over Tammany Of New York Democrats

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy emerged today as undisputed leader of New York's Democratic party, strengthened by a smashing victory over once-powerful Tammany Hall in a normally obscure primary judgeship race.

Kennedy's hand-picked candidate for judge of the Surrogate (Probate) Court — Samuel J. Silverman — defeated the regular Manhattan organization candidate, Arthur Klein, in an open test of Kennedy's political strength. Both Silverman and Klein now are New York Supreme Court justices.

The race was the highlight of New York's primary elections, which also saw a Goldwater Republican defeat a candidate endorsed by Sen. Jacob K. Javits and an opponent of President Johnson's Viet Nam policy upset a veteran congressman.

On suburban Long Island, Steven Derounian, who lost his congressional seat when he backed Barry Goldwater in the Johnson landslide of 1964, won the Republican nomination over GOP moderate William J. Casey.

From Washington, Goldwater said in a statement that Derounian's victory "was just one more convincing proof the mainstream of the Republican party is, as it always has been, common sense conservatism."

Casey was endorsed by Javits, but Javits did not campaign actively for him. Derounian will face Rep. Lester L. Wolff, the Democrat who defeated him two years ago, in the November election.

In Brooklyn, the powerful Democratic organization beat down two strong challenges against Rep. Edna Kelly, a Democratic national committeewoman, and Rep. Abraham Multer.

In an upstate Hudson Valley contest, Hamilton Fish, Jr., son and grandson of former congressmen, won the Republican nomination for Congress. He defeated Alexander Aldrich, a cousin and former aide to Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Kennedy encouraged Silverman to enter the race for Manhattan surrogate last month after the New York County Republican organization followed Tammany Hall in endorsing Klein.

Kennedy was jubilant at Silverman campaign headquarters as his candidate claimed victory.

WVU's Miller Slated To Get Federal Post

CHARLESTON — Reports circulating here say West Virginia University President Paul A. Miller will probably be appointed assistant secretary of education in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

If appointed, Miller would take a cut in pay from his present $35,000 a year to $27,000 annually.

Both The Charleston Gazette and Charleston television station WSAZ reported Tuesday that the FBI was making a "full field check" on Miller.

Such investigations are routine for persons appointed to high federal positions.

The assistant secretary of education position was vacated by Francis Keppel who resigned recently to enter private business.

Miller, who was formerly provost at Michigan State University, is a WVU graduate and assumed the presidency of his alma mater in 1962. He succeeded Elvin Stahr who resigned to become secretary of the Army.

McNamara Says Raids Successful

Reds' Infiltration To Be More Costly, Defense Chief Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said today U.S. planes hit Hanoi-Haiphong oil depots today to make North Viet Nam's infiltration of the south "more costly." He portrayed the raids as highly successful.

McNamara said "every effort was made to prevent harm to civilians and to prevent destruction of nonmilitary facilities."

He told a broadcast and televised news conference the decision to strike the petroleum facilities was made by President Johnson on his recommendation and that of Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

McNamara said "the decision to strike these targets was made to restrict and make more costly the enemy's infiltration of South Viet Nam."

Another objective, he said, was to "save the lives" of the South Vietnamese, Americans, Australians and South Koreans fighting in South Viet Nam.

The action, McNamara said, was a response to a swift and rising North Vietnamese buildup in South Viet Nam which has converted the fighting there into a "quasi-conventional war operation."

That buildup, he said, has made the North Vietnamese forces and their Viet Cong allies increasingly dependent on truck movement of heavy supplies, increasing the strategic importance of fuel.

McNamara said more than 60 per cent of North Viet Nam's oil storage facilities were in the three target areas hit.

Other Pentagon sources said that prior to today's devastating strikes only 15 per cent of North Viet Nam's petroleum facilities had been knocked out in recently intensified raids.

McNamara emphasized that the United States' policy is to attack only military targets in North Viet Nam and targets of support.

Regret Over Bombing

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson expressed regret over today's American bombing of oil depots near Hanoi and said Britain is unable to support the action.

In addition to his parents and his widow, he leaves his stepfather, Dale Haney; a sister, Navy Corpsman Nancy Lorraine Roach, stationed at Bainbridge, Md.; a brother, Ronald Keith Roach, at home; the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Timmons; the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Silverthorn, and the paternal step-grandmother, Mrs. Edna Haney, all of East Liverpool, and the maternal great-grandmother, Mrs. Mona Wolfe of Portland, Ohio.

St. Clairsville Firm Will Do Park Roads

LISBON — The Ohio Valley Paving Corp. of St. Clairsville will resurface 6.6 miles of roads in Guilford Lake State Park and Beaver Creek State Park this summer.

Ohio Valley's bid of $17,974 was the lowest of two opened Tuesday at State Highway Department headquarters in Columbus. The engineer's estimate for the project was $25,350.

Road work will total 2.46 miles at Guilford and 4.15 at Beaver Creek.

The work carries a Sept. 30 completion date.

Soviet Aide Attacks U.S. Actions In Viet

OTTAWA (AP) — Soviet First Deputy Premier Dmitri Polyansky attacked U.S. actions in Viet Nam at an official Canadian dinner Tuesday night and drew a sharp retort from his host, Foreign Minister Paul Martin.

Polyansky, head of a Soviet delegation touring Canada, stunned the gathering of Canadian Cabinet ministers, legislators and diplomats. He said the United States is destroying the Vietnamese people, their cities and roads while not one Vietnamese bomb has been dropped on the United States.

British Seamen End Strike Of 45 Days

LONDON (AP) — Britain's 45-day seamen's strike was settled today.

The executive committee of the National Seamen's Union voted 29 to 16 to call off the strike after meeting all morning at their South London headquarters.

The decision followed by less than 24 hours a charge in the House of Commons by Prime Minister Harold Wilson that Communists were pressuring the seamen to prolong the dispute for political motives.

A Goat Named 'Medicare'

Criticism of medicare already is under way and gaining momentum as the July 1 deadline draws near.

It is going to be an interesting thing to watch and listen to the critics in mouths to come.

Medicare is destined to be the scapegoat for all the problems of doctor-patient-hospital relationships.

To hear its critics unburden themselves, hospitals never were overcrowded before, doctors never were overburdened and patients never had trouble paying bills and fees for the high cost of sickness.

The high cost of sickness wasn't a pressing problem, to hear the critics of medicare tell about it. People unable to meet it were entitled to unlimited free service, or drew on relief funds. People able to meet it without a struggle were charged all the traffic would bear and never murmur. All others paid for the high cost of illness catch as catch can. Being wiped out by a dependent's lingering illness was part of the American way of life. Men and women over 65 and living in forced retirement on fixed incomes had no problems, and if they did have problems their families underwrote their bills.

All in all, to hear the critics of medicare tell about it, everything was going fine until July 1, 1966—then everything turned sour.

Fortunately, critics of medicare are a minority.

Many were critics of pre-paid hospital care and medical costs when these now common-place procedures were regarded as revolutionary.

It is unfortunate — this tendency to turn a controversial idea into a scapegoat. But it is fundamental human nature to do it, and it will happen to medicare.

There will be times in the months ahead when critics of medicare will make it sound as if no problems existed before July 1, 1966.

If they're not careful, they will make it sound as if sickness was unknown before medicare went into effect.

Round 2 Comes Fast

(Reprinted From Weirton Daily Times)

Round 2 in the latter - day judicial career of Squire Dick Wright of Hancock County came faster than expected.

Just two weeks ago — in Round 1 of his new appointment — warrants were issued through his office for the raiding of the Half Moon Club and the Rio Social Club in The Strip. The warrants were executed by the state police and the complainant's name was kept confidential by Squire Wright.

While everyone kept marking time over the next move in the Battle of The Strip, two more warrants were processed June 18 through Squire Wright's office — this time for a repeat performance on the Rio Social Club and against the Cactus Club. The Cactus and Rio operate in tandem in The Strip.

Squire Wright's warrant for the Rio was executed by the state police and that for the Cactus Bar by Sheriff Joe Rodak's deputies.

The Nuclear Ball Bat

The classic story about mule-training is going to be illustrated afresh in Tahiti within the next few days.

The story relates how a mule trainer went into painstaking detail about his specialty, for the benefit of an interested audience.

He explained the psychology of mules and everything mule trainers knew about their behavior patterns. He referred to the importance of confidence between man and beast. He mentioned the rapport that grew up between drivers of mules and the beasts they drove.

His listeners were spell-bound. They never had realized before what a fascinating creature mules were. They had known nothing of mule personality and the contribution of mules to the building of a better civilization.

Throughout the lecture, the listeners had noted the presence in the mule trainer's leathery hand of a full-size baseball bat. He punctuated his remarks with the bat. He thwacked it against his mule - trainer - type boots. He brandished it. He obviously set great store by that baseball bat.

"What's the bat for?" asked a listener.

"I was just coming to that," was the reply. "The first and most important thing in training a mule is to get the mule's attention."

In Tahiti within the next few days, Charles de Gaulle's France will explode a hydrogen bomb. France is about to get attention the same way the Soviet Union and the Chinese People's Republic got attention — with an atomic ball bat.

There is really no other feasible way to get close attention in a nuclear era.

War Issue In 1966

The Republican Coordinating Committee's new policy line is to ask the Johnson administration to tell the American public everything it knows about the war in Southeast Asia.

The political implication is blunt.

The Republican policy-makers are saying in effect that if the Johnson administration told everything it knew, the military adventure in Asia would look different than it looks in the absence of full disclosure.

This is an abrupt and significant switch from a previous Republican policy hinted at by some party stalwarts — an all-out, get-tough, win-or-get-out line.

Jack Bell of The Associated Press believes Republican congressmen who have been home recently talking to their constituents learned there is no market for an all-out, get tough attitude in Southeast Asia.

A Pitiful Sight

WASHINGTON

The Communist party, U.S.A., this month held its first convention since 1959. It was a pitiful sight in more ways than one.

This in turn raises questions about the so-called new left which is supposed to be developing in this country, although not connected with communism which is said to look out of date to the new radicals.

Congress, courts, FBI and changing times made a wreck of the American Communist party. It claims a membership of 10,000 to 12,000, way down from the 80,000 to 100,000 it claimed in depression days 30 years or so ago.

IN A WAY the New York convention looked a little like an old folks' home. The 213 delegates and 42 alternates from 36 states were mostly up in years and had been in the party for years.

Many got bored and walked out the opening night when Gus Hall, the general secretary, hit them with a three - hour speech. Hall, 55, has been a party member most of his life.

The party wants to attract young people and there was some infighting with newcomers anxious to wrest control from the oldsters. The oldsters held fast.

It's not just the fractured condition of the party which makes it look pathetic. It's the vagueness. There were harsh words about the American role in Viet Nam. But, generally, the tone was as mild as a pussycat.

Hall was the prince of vagueness, talking about setting in motion a movement to present an independent candidate, although not a Communist, for president in 1968.

The party is trying to hook into the fringes of agitation, like the civil rights movement or among youths. It's operating at a bad time.

Other Washington observers have been pointing out that no one in either party dreams now about keeping the issue of this undeclared war in Asia out of the 1966 congressional elections.

There will be time between now and next November for an issue to crystallize, in the same way a war issue crystallized in 1952 when voters were in no mood to support the Truman administration's war policy in Korea.

Republican policy-makers would have to be handicapped with short memories to forget that Dwight D. Eisenhower, their party's candidate, was credited with clinching his successful campaign for the presidency by promising to go to Korea if elected and see what he could do about ending the war — not escalating it, not trying to win it, just ending the violence.

By James Marlow

The Communist world is split. The satellites are restless. Marxism in Europe is losing its rigidity, communism's chances in the prosperous countries are hopeless and in the backward countries it's not doing well.

The American Communist party is in a particularly unhappy spot and has been since President Franklin D. Roosevelt changed the direction of American thinking by establishing government concern for the general welfare.

ALL THAT has happened since then has been in the same direction, but more intensely, which makes the promises of communism look a little ridiculous.

There are vast areas of poverty and deprivation in America, but the general population has a prosperity it never enjoyed before. And that population, since it now has so much to lose, is not going to listen to demands for radical change.

This is what the new radicalism in America faces: A largely self - satisfied society, richer than ever, despite the injustices inflicted on individual groups, like Negroes.

The question then is: To whom can the new or young radicals, so - called, appeal? If their cause has anything more than restless discontent, like an ideology for the American future, it hasn't reached the masses of the people.

And it is questionable that many of the discontented young people are motivated by ideas or dreams of a more perfect society. With many the motivations are probably personal, the product of individual frustrations.

Any kind of radical third party movement of any real force — at a time when the government is preaching the Great Society theme and doing something about it — seems impossible now or far off.

Nesting Place

Hoffa's New Power System

By Victor Riesel

The arts of power are many. And the master of them all is Jimmy Hoffa — which explains why all those revolts so frequently reported in the public prints — except here — fizzle out like hot club soda.

Insiders know that Hoffa controls his 1,772,194-member Teamster Union through a band of some 50 men. Those who know them can always spot the vigilant ones constantly on the move through Hoffa's conventions such as the current Miami Beach gathering.

In turn, they are controlled by a 15-man executive board — a sort of burgeoning Golden Ring Club — whose members truly cannot defy Hoffa because of a startling pension system arrangement whose beauty is in the eye of the holder.

Though virtually all outsiders are unaware of the arrangement, national officials of the Teamsters can retire at 100 per cent of the highest salary they earned while on the national office payroll.

Thus, when the Teamsters' lone "egghead," the intellectual Harold Gibbons, leader of Missouri's Teamsters, reportedly was threatening to break with Hoffa, the challenger had to be prepared to make considerable sacrifice.

He would have been purged by Hoffa at the 19th convention. This would have meant being cut off from his salary as national tenth vice president.

In 1965, this came to $13,000. But that's not the sacrificial item. The year to contemplate is '63. Then his salary was $37,013.69 for his duties as executive vice president as well as eleventh vice president.

IF HE STAYS on the national office payroll even at a dollar a year, he will some day retire at this impressive figure. If he is cut off, he gets simply a ratio of what he put in during the past decade.

I do not insinuate that Gibbons put principal above principle. It's simply stated that $37,000 a year makes a mighty fine pension even for a Teamsters' official.

By the same financial token, Jim Hoffa will be able to retire at $75,000 annually, and old penny - pinching Dave Beck now receives $50,000 a year though he served time in prison.

Thus, the executive board members, some with just a few years to run, aren't eager to lose their vice presidencies. While they're on the board, most of them draw dual salaries, sometime triple, making most of them $50,000-a-year men.

Now this power in the huge union, second in the world only to Otto Brenner's two million-member German Metal Workers, is coupled by Hoffa with his influence as chairman of the board of trustees of the Central States, Southeast and Southwest Areas Pension Fund. Long name, big money. The fund now contains more than $400 million. It has a net income of $60 million for loans.

IT HAS REALLY not harmed anyone's prestige to be in a position to award loans. So Hoffa has named such stalwarts to the labor side of the trustees board as his personally selected heir, Detroit's Frank Fitzsimmons; the really tough Roy Williams of Kansas City; the Ohio section commander, Bill Presser, not unknown in the courts; "Dusty" Miller, of the Teamsters' Southland operation; Gordon Conklin of St. Paul; Odell Smith of Little Rock; and Floyd Webb.

It must feel grand to be the guardian of $400 million of the rank and file's hopes for a secure, pension-filled future. But now the feelings are mixed. It's that old devil, the Justice Department, again.

At this moment the U. S. attorney of the Southern District of New York is x-raying the fund. Under the direction of a self-effacing, incorruptible assistant U. S. attorney, Harold Baer Jr., the investigation is cutting into 300 loans made during '64 and '65.

In all, Baer is analyzing 3,000 pages of minutes. They cover the trustees' quarterly meetings. They go into the many conference telephone calls.

IT ALL SPRINGS from the fact that "there were allegations against two labor trustees in connection with applications for loans to the fund."

So the heat is on again. The more things change, the more they are the same.

Same convention. So what matter the bands, the vaudeville, the bread and circuses of the giant convention. Once more the last round will be fought in the courts.

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW

I see where the judge is going to increase the fines for speeding on St. Clair Ave.

That sounds like a good idea, but why stop there? We have speeding in other sections of town other than St. Clair. Why not increase it everywhere a person is caught speeding?

Take the Lisbon St. hill, also Webber Way, W. 8th from Jefferson to the city limits toward Wellsville. How about the end of the Freeway near the Newell bridge and all along W. 3rd St.

I'm sure the people on W. 3rd would welcome that. Yes, there are lots of areas in addition to St. Clair that need more enforcement and a good way to hit them is in the pocket-book.

I have been a resident of the West End for many years and one of the most violated traffic regulation is that involving the "Yield" signs at the end of those ramps at the Freeway. Most drivers pay little attention to them, especially the truck drivers, and the one at Westgate School is the most violated one.

Yes, Judge, a man is just as guilty speeding on W. 8th, W. 3rd or anywhere else as he is on St. Clair. I'd say raise the fine every place.

Dissension

By David Lawrence

Civil-Rights Leaders At Odds

Dissension among civil-rights leaders has been revealed. This takes on significance because within the groups there has been for some time different schools of thought—those who believe progress for Negroes in America will be made by more and more demonstrations, and those who feel that public opinion will become unfriendly if there is incitement to violence and recurring riots in American cities.

The general impression conveyed heretofore has been that only the south is at fault David Lawrence and that ill-treatment of the Negro is sectional. Disturbances in Northern cities, however, have increased in intensity. It's evident that many Negroes in the North are as poorly informed about the inevitable currents of public opinion as are the Klansmen in the South. Difficulties are being created that are hurting the efforts of thoughtful and sensible Negroes who have been striving hard to overcome by proper methods the handicaps suffered in the past.

WHAT IS DAMAGING the Negro cause is the frequency of such news as the following UPI dispatch reported from Cleveland a few days ago:

"Police today continued a heavy patrol of nearly 30 blocks of Cleveland's racially tense East Side Negro area following a night of vandalism by roving mobs.

"Bands of Negro youths, 10 to 40 strong, continued to roam the area throughout the night, throwing rocks and breaking store windows. At least eight persons were treated at hospitals for cuts and bruises received in rock-throwing incidents.

"Policemen were pelted with bottles by Negroes who lay in wait in side streets. In one incident about 10 special task force policemen were suddenly confronted by a crowd of Negroes across an intersection.

"Almost simultaneously, 50 to 60 bottles were hurled across the street at the officers. No arrests were reported as the attacking crowds threw bottles and bricks and fled back into the side streets with police pursuit."

Riots of this kind are not confined to any one part of the country.

MORE AND MORE the feeling is growing that a mob spirit is arising in this country and that physical violence may erupt at almost any place where there are racial differences of any kind. Instead of waiting for laws to be enforced or action to be taken by the courts, the tendency now is to engage in mob demonstrations, which frighten the peaceful citizenry in many a community.

It's evident that members of Congress are watching carefully to see what's happening back home. The undercurrents of dissatisfaction and discontent are rising. Many people will not disclose to other persons their gripes or their grievances but will make their protests known at the polls.

They will watch, for instance, to see how Congress handles the "fair housing" legislation. It seems probable that there will be movements to defeat representatives and senators who vote to take away from the private citizen the right to dispose of his property as he pleases.

THE QUESTION is not concerned merely with the sale or rental of property but also with the effect upon each neighborhood if anybody, irrespective of whether he is a law-abiding citizen, can force his way into a community.

The effect on real-estate values is not readily calculated but many people throughout the country who own property are beginning to worry about it.

If all the homeowners in the United States expressed their feelings in this matter, it would add up to a very sizable vote of protest. The fact that an election is to be held for members of Congress this November means that the fair housing legislation may be put off until a later date but it is already beginning to be talked about as perhaps one of the biggest influences on the outcome of the congressional election.

Grin And Bear It

Patrol Asks Safe Driving Over 'Fourth'

Cooperation of all motorists is requested by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon in curbing accidents over the long Fourth of July weekend.

"Traffic accidents can be prevented," Sgt. R. J. Rizzo of the post said, "if motorists obey traffic laws and drive with care."

During the 1965 Fourth holiday, the Lisbon post investigated one fatal crash, 17 other accidents and reported 20 persons hurt, 68 drivers arrested and 43 warnings issued for mechanical faults. Fourteen motorists were aided.

The Patrol will bring into action all of its facilities over the weekend and be on duty around the clock, with heavy enforcement in high accident frequency areas. The Sergeant warned motorists to drive very carefully and with utmost regard for the traffic laws.

Every available officer will be assigned traffic duty. Men of the Auxiliary Highway Patrol will be on the job, too, relieving regular officers from desk duty at patrol posts. They also will ride with highway patrolmen.

Striving for a deathless weekend in traffic, highway patrolmen will be out in force on the highways. They will be quick to stop traffic law violators.

Radar will be used to help detect speeders as well as patrol aircraft, which also will be on the lookout over the state for traffic tieups and motorists in need of assistance.

On Memorial Day weekend the Highway Patrol arrested nearly 5,000 motorists for violations and warned more than 2,500 others for mechanical defects. Over 2,000 disabled motorists were given assistance.

The patrol issued no warnings for traffic violations over the Memorial Day weekend, and the same policy will be in effect over July 4th weekend. All violators will be cited.

Traffic fatalities in Ohio were dropped from a predicted 33 to a low of 15 for the 78-hour Memorial Day weekend.

Sgt. Rizzo said there is no reason why the Columbiana County area can't observe the holiday without a single death.

He pledged the full effort and cooperation of the patrol to prevent accidents on the highways.

Bids Accepted At Lisbon For Welding Shop

LISBON — The Lisbon Board of Education accepted three bids during a special meeting Monday for construction of a welding shop addition at David Anderson High School.

Board members delayed letting contracts when bids were opened June 8 and met June 21 with Architect George Smith of Youngstown to trim the plan to bare essentials.

Contractors with low bids are the Robert Bricker Construction

Co., Salem, general contract, $9,750; R. D. Walker, Youngstown, plumbing and heating, $6,100, and the Firestone Electric Co., Salem, electrical work, $13,562.

The $29,412 total will be reduced, however, in line with a "change order" schedule the architect will work out with the board and contractors.

Acceptance of the original bids was necessary to avoid having to readvertise and lose valuable time, board members explained. It is hoped to have the addition ready by the opening of school in September.

The board will meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the administration building on E. Chestnut St. A public hearing on the budget is set for 7 p. m.

mies are commissioned as second lieutenants or ensigns.

Like those of the service academies, students in the Reserve Officer Training Corps programs at schools, colleges and universities are no - prior-service men.

The idea is that along with your civilian schooling you receive enough military training and military subjects to qualify you for an officer's commission, either in the regular establishment or as a reserve officer.

TWO OF the services, the Army and Air Force, set ages for entrance into ROTC type units low enough to include youngsters entering high school. The age brackets for these pro-

Army requirement. This assistance provides normal pay and allowances, plus tuition, books, training, supplies and similar fees. It covers accredited universities, colleges, graduate schools or other civilian educational institutions.

There is requirement that a man must re-enlist for at least three years, with the length of the educational period not more than 50 per cent of the enlistment.

The Army General Educational Development program, available at more than 300 Army educational centers in the U.S. and overseas, provides academic and vocational - technical and foreign language classes at little or no cost.

Girl Trampled To Death By Zoo Elephant

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Nine-year-old Michael Sharpe heard a mother scream.

A 3-year-old girl with her bag of popcorn had slipped under the gate near the elephant cage at the Henry Vilas Park Zoo Tuesday.

Winkie, a 3½ ton import from India, snaked her trunk out through the bars and curled it around the child.

"I didn't know what to do," Michael said. "Winkie just grabbed her and started pulling her in. She was trumpeting and the girl's mother was screaming. I don't know what was wrong with Winkie. I never saw her that way."

The girl was Ruth Ellen Freedman, the daughter of Prof. Ralph Freedman of Princeton University.

Before anyone could reach her, the elephant smashed the child against the bars of the cage, dropped her, picked her up again, drew her inside the cage and let her fall unconscious to the concrete floor.

After Mrs. Freedman screamed, she and her husband dashed to a gate and entered in an attempt to rescue the child but by then the elephant had pulled her through the bars.

Ruth Ellen was dead on arrival at the hospital.

Dane County Coroner Clyde Chamberlain said the fatal injury probably was inflicted by the elephant's feet after the child was inside the cage.

"She was more or less trampled," he said.

Ruth Ellen had come to Madison a few days ago with her parents.

Freedman, a prominent scholar and writer, was spending the summer at the University of Wisconsin as a visiting lecturer.

The university is not far from the city zoo where Winkie, the only elephant, has been the star attraction for children since her arrival almost 20 years ago.

Zoo Director Alvie Nelson considered the 23-year-old animal docile. "We've had no problems with her," he said.

Children fearlessly fed her peanuts and popcorn.

Ruth Ellen took her bag of popcorn with her under the cyclone fence.

The barrier was supposed to keep zoo visitors at a safe distance from the cages. "It's a perfectly safe enclosure," said Nelson, "except if people want to get in, you can't keep them out."

The first person to reach the child was Melvin Bollig, the caretaker. He was in the nearby lion house.

"I hears screaming and I rushed to the cage. I saw the child lying on the concrete. The elephant walked away the moment I walked in the cage. She acted as if she knew she had done something wrong."

The coroner said he didn't know what would become of the animal.

'Surprise' Program Set For Lisbon Club

LISBON — Dan Myers, Kiwanis Club program chairman, will present a "surprise" program during the weekly luncheon Thursday noon in St. George parish hall.

The club will hold an election July 7 to fill two vacancies on the Board of Directors. Ralph Toot and Carl Turk have been nominated by a committee and President Cornell Monda will ask for additional nominations from the floor.

Jack Barrett, an elder of the Grace United Presbyterian Church, was elected to serve as a trustee of the Ohio Presbyterian Homes (aged and retired) during a meeting of the Steubenville Presbytery Tuesday in the Longs Run United Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. Moss Rutan of the First church in Mingo Junction, vice moderator, presided in the absence of the Rev. Sheldon Hastings, moderator.

It was announced that Charles Bulger, a recent graduate of the Pittsburgh Theological Seminary, will be ordained July 5 by the Omaha Presbytery. He will be installed as pastor of the Bethesda Church on July 17. The group voted to set up a grams of both services are 14-24. The naval ROTC age bracket is 17 to 21. The Coast Guard does not use an ROTC program, relying on its Officer Candidate School.

The student body of the Officer Candidate Schools (OCS), maintained by the services come from the two sources. One is from the enlisted or warrant officer ranks of the regular and reserve forces — men whose work and showing in aptitude tests mark them as likely officer material.

The other source is men who are college graduates and thus, if meeting other standards such as physical fitness and mental aptitude, may qualify for direct enlistment in OCS. The requirements for college degrees and the length of training at OCS schools varies somewhat with the individual services.

Entrance age brackets for the OCS differs with services. The Army bracket is 18½ to 28; the Marines 20 to 27 (but with 26 years the top for aviation men); the Air Force 20½ to 29½; the Coast Guard 21 to 26.

Direct appointments to officer commissions occur in instances where special professional or technical skills are needed. Also commissions are granted as the direct result of combat.

Tomorrow we'll tell you about the women in service.

YOUR EDUCATION doesn't need to end when you become an enlisted man in the armed forces.

Along with teaching lessons for the battlefield, the military operates a multi-million dollar educational system - of correspondence courses, on-base classrooms and partly or wholly paid tuition in civilian schools.

Available to the enlisted man are courses similar to or identical with those for officers.

They can lead the way along educational paths to promotion in rank or to officer commissions or skills that will be useful in civilian jobs.

The services have more than 300 on-base classrooms in the United States, plus others aboard ships or overseas. In addition, there are a dozen general programs under which tuition and some other expenses are paid partly or wholly. It is estimated that more than three-quarters of the subjects and courses taught at on-base schools are applicable in civilian jobs.

Correspondence courses are high on the popularity list. About one million servicemen, both enlisted and officer personnel, are enrolled each year. Upwards of a thousand subjects are offered.

While each service operates its own educational system with its own requirements for entrance the Defense Department also runs joint schools.

The Tuition Assistance programs of the services, available to both enlisted and officer personnel on active duty, provide up to 75 per cent of tuition fees for off-duty study at accredited schools or $14.25 per semester hour, whichever is less.

The United States Armed Force Institute program includes reduced fees for group, extension and correspondence courses. Its program ranges from elementary school subjects through second year college level.

ARMY Enlisted Schooling is available to all active duty personnel; training must meet an graduate degree in six months of full time college attendance. This student receives normal pay and allowances, but pays all school expenses. He must serve two years after baccalaureate degree or four after graduate degree.

Navy Enlisted Scientific Education: Navy or Marine personnel in grade E-4 or above, with high school education.

In general, the draftee or enlistee is eligible for some of the elementary and other school courses in 60 days after going on active duty. However, basic and unit training may delay this.

In addition to the academic courses, the Army, Navy and Air Force have similar medical programs for which the student pays off in additional obligated service.

Newell Firemen To Resume Drive

Plans to resume the maintenance fund drive interrupted by the recent carnival were made during the meeting of the Newell volunteer fire department Monday night at the station.

The house-to-house canvass will be conducted during the current week and will continue for an indefinite period, it was announced.

Four new members — Pearly Adkins, Gary Nelson, James Norris and Charles Chenoweth — were accepted on a one-year probationary basis, bringing the present membership to 24.

Dave Jester and Don McVeigh were named co-chairmen of the 1967 carnival committee, with Jim Tice, Bob Duncan and Alvin Mooney committee members.

Named as a picnic committee were Earl Flesch, chairman; Jester, Bob Glendenning, Bob Stoneburner and Floyd Wilson.

The firemen repaired and overhauled two sirens located at 4th St. and at the station.

The next meeting will be July 11.

seen, he said. The raids were between noon and 1:40 p.m. The U.S. Command also announced successful raids Tuesday on the supply routes from Hanoi to Red China, reporting U.S. planes destroyed the Viet Tri railroad and highway bridge 27 miles northwest of Hanoi and a bridge 35 miles north of the capital.

The Air Force credited Capt. Elias Ceasillas, 34, of Santa Monica, Calif., and Lt. Michael I. Brazelton of Inglewood, Calif., with knocking out the Viet Tri Bridge. Aerial photographs showed three spans were down.

Air Force Maj. D. E. Hornsby, 41, of Little Marsh, Pa., led the planes that hit the other bridge.

The Air Force and Navy flew 78 missions over North Viet Nam Tuesday. In addition to the two bridges, U.S. pilots hit fuel storage areas, rail lines, barges, trucks, boxcars and radar sites, mostly in the southern panhandle. One Air Force strike was against a radar site 15 miles northwest of Hanoi.

At dawn today, U.S. B52 bombers plastered two enemy troop and supply areas in South Viet Nam. One wave rained bombs 20 miles southwest of Hue in the northern province of Thua Thien. Another wave hammered at a highland area 35 miles west of Pleiku close to the Cambodian border.

U.S. and Vietnamese pilots flew a total of 569 single-plane sorties in the south Tuesday.

In one of two small U.S. ground actions, an American Special Forces unit spotted a platoon of about 30 Viet Cong Tuesday 15 miles southwest of Chu Lai. The "Green Berets" called in an air strike and later found 10 Viet Cong dead in the target area. The Special Forces unit also captured five Viet Cong while suffering no casualties themselves, a spokesman said.

An 11-man squad of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division ran into a Viet Cong ambush at midnight seven miles southwest of Cu Chi. A U.S. spokesman said casualties were heavy. The Americans apparently were caught in the open.

Another engagement took place in Quang Tin Province, 348 miles northeast of Saigon, when 50 Viet Cong ambushed a small unit of regional force soldiers. Vietnamese army regulars quickly reinforced the regional unit and reported killing 16 Viet Cong and capturing one. Vietnamese and regional casualties were listed as moderate.

Doak Assumes Duties As Rotary's President

Arthur V. Doak, new president of the Rotary Club, received the gavel from E. R. Chandler, retiring president, during the meeting Tuesday at the Travelers Hotel. Doak heads the Miligan Hardware & Supply Co.

Serving with him during the coming year will be Frank C. Dawson, vice president; Harold B. Barth, secretary; Frank N. Richmond, treasurer; Carl F. Pelini, sergeant-at-arms, and Jackman S. Vudrey, assistant sergeant-at-arms.

The terms will become effective in July.

TECHNIQUES of driving safely on modern highway systems were outlined in an AAA movie, "Freeway Driving Is Different," screened by H. Jud English during the program.

English, who is executive manager of the Columbiana County Motor Club, also presented a brief talk after being introduced by Clifford Hindley, program chairman.

He credited the use of safety belts in autos as an important factor in curbing injuries in collisions. Use of the belts has been mandatory with the State Highway Patrol for several months and has drastically reduced the number of fatalities, he pointed out.

He also described an experiment on Interstate Route 71, north of Columbus, which made use of a wide median strip and a five-foot mound between opposing traffic lanes. The experiment has resulted in a high safety factor, he said.

The following precautions in freeway driving were stressed in the film:

Observe signs and select the proper entrance when entering the freeway, adjusting to the speed of the traffic and always being alert for emergencies.

Signal whenever changing lanes, always observing a safe following distance of at least one car length for each 10 miles per hour, and being extra alert when heavy traffic makes this difficult.

Thief Jacks Up Auto, Then Takes Rear Tire

An East Liverpool man complained to police Monday that a bold thief jacked up the rear of his auto while it was parked in the downtown area, then stole a rear tire and wheel.

John Lyons of 329 Jackman St. reported he parked his car on the Horn Switch property off Dresden Ave., then walked to City Hall about two blocks away to pay a bill. When he returned a short time later, the rear wheel and 7.50-x-14 tire were gone, he said.

3 Nazis Are Charged

MUNICH, Germany (AP) — Wilhelm Harster, 61, chief of the Nazi security police in Nazi-occupied Holland, and two of his aides were charged today with aiding and abetting the murder of thousands of Dutch Jews.

more air to circulate in the car and pulling off in a rest area if necessary to walk around or take a nap.

In an emergency, always drive the auto completely off the highway onto the shoulder; for assistance, raise the hood and tie a handkerchief or other white article to the radio antenna, keeping a safe distance from the roadway.

Always be aware of personal limitations in regard to eyesight, hearing and reaction time.

When preparing to drive from the freeway at an exit point, watch for the proper sign, as a drive of many miles might be required if the exit is bypassed. Adjust to a lower speed when leaving the freeway.

Visiting Rotarians at yesterday's meeting were Dave Schwabel of Boardman and Julius Jacob of Midland.

A farewell was given George Hargraves Jr., attending his last meeting with the local club before leaving the area. A past president, he was commended for his service as chairman of the youth service committee.

Chandler expressed appreciation to the board of directors and committee members for their cooperation during the past year.

Hospitals Set For Patients In Medicare

The staffs and administrators of City Hospital and the Osteopathic Hospital today announced readiness of the institutions to serve elderly area residents under the new Medicare program which will go into effect Friday.

At both hospitals, attention has been focused in the past several months on interpretation of the new program and preparations have been made to handle patients.

Miss Nell Robinson, superintendent of City Hospital, and Dr. John Hayes of Osteopathic Hospital have made suggestions to potential patients 65 and older who will be hospitalized under the program.

Patients are urged to bring with them the Health Insurance Card when they come for admission. It is a necessary part of the claim.

Patients should be familiar with the information given in the Medicare Handbook sent out to beneficiaries by the Social Security Administration.

Patients should be prepared to sign a form which the hospitals can use in filing their claims.

Dr. Hayes said no large influx of patients is expected when the program starts, but Osteopathic Hospital is ready to handle the program.

Miss Robinson said City Hospital staffers are "glad to cooperate with the local Social Security Administration in serving residents of our community through Medicare."

"Its staff, in cooperation with the local Social Security Administration, is attempting to establish the eligibility of patients above 65 who are currently in the hospital."

Any questions that community residents have pertaining to hospital benefits can be answered by the local Social Security Administration office on Dresden Ave.

One thing a family should not expect the funeral director to do is to suggest the cost of the funeral to be selected. His advice may be invited, but the decision rests with the family. The financial aspects must of necessity be candidly discussed, to avoid hardship and to have complete understanding by all concerned.

Bolin Hurls 2-Hitter In Giants 7-1 Win

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

While dreams of a no-hitter danced in Bobby Bolin's head, Jim Ray Hart two-stepped his way into the San Francisco Giants' dugout chasing a pop foul. After that, the no-hit jig was up for Bolin.

Bolin, the strong-armed right-hander who has been something of a disappointment this year had set the St. Louis Cardinals down without a hit over 6 1/3 innings Tuesday night.

Then ex-Giant Orlando Cepeda lofted a foul fly off third. Hart drifted over and caught the ball. But the umpires ruled the third baseman was in the Giant dugout when he made the grab and nullified the apparent out.

That gave Cepeda another swing and the slugging first baseman ruined Bolin's no-hit bid with a single. Bolin surrendered only one other hit en route to a 7-1 victory.

The Giants, who won their 13th game in the last 17, backed Bolin with a 13-hit attack that included Willie Mays' 18th homer and the 523rd of his National League career.

The victory kept San Francisco's National League lead at four games over Pittsburgh which downed Houston 4-3. Jim Bunning pitched a two-hitter for Philadelphia as the Phillies nipped the New York Mets 1-0.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 29, 1966 PAGE 12

Cincinnati dropped Los Angeles 3-1 and Atlanta whipped Chicago 4-2 in other games.

Bob Veale scattered eight hits as the Pirates kept pace with front-running San Francisco by beating Houston.

Run-scoring singles by Roberto Clemente and Jose Pagan in the fifth inning put Pittsburgh in front for good as Vale blanked the Astros over the last six innings.

Bunning, who pitched a perfect game in New York two years ago, allowed the Mets only two singles — both of them in the fifth inning — and got the only run he needed on Bill White's two-out homer in the seventh.

Bob Friend, the Mets' starter, also allowed only two hits but was charged with the loss, his first since coming to New York two weeks ago.

Streaking Cincinnati won its 10th game in the last 11 as Sammy Ellis limited the Dodgers to five hits. It was the third straight victory for Ellis since returning to the Reds starting rotation.

Joe Torre drove in three runs with a single and his 17th homer accounting for half of Atlanta's hits against Chicago's Ken Holtzman. Clay Carroll pitched six innings of shutout relief and got credit for the victory, his third in five decisions.

Athletics Dump Orioles, 4-3

Twins Blank Indians, 4-0, On Five Hits

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Everything's upside down in Kansas City ... and the amazement Athletics never had it so good.

The A's, perennial American League tailenders under a succession of frustrated managers, continued their upswing under new pilot Alvin Dark Tuesday night by ambushing first-place Baltimore 4-3.

The victory, fifth for the A's in their last six starts, gave them a shot at overtaking the New York Yankees in the standings for the first time since Charley Finley was a tot. They are eighth, nine games below the .500 mark but only one-half length short of the Yankees, who lost to last-place Boston 5-3 Tuesday night.

While Kansas City fans have been struggling to keep pace with the comings and goings of their heroes — result of a steady stream of trades — Dark has had his patch-work club on the move. After losing 15 of their first 20 games, the A's have gone 30-29 since May 8.

Ten KC players have departed since spring training — including 1965 favorites John Wyatt, Wayne Causey and Ken Harrelson — but Dark is getting mileage out of newcomers Danny Cater (White Sox), Roger Repoz (Yankees) and Jim Gosger (Red Sox).

Cater and Gosger each doubled in a run against the Orioles Tuesday night while rookie Chuck Dobson and relievers Ken Sanders and Jack Aker checked the league leaders on six hits.

Detroit clobbered California 15-3. Minnesota blanked Cleveland 4-0 and Washington beat Chicago 4-1 in other AL games.

The Athletics snapped Baltimore's three-game winning streak by grabbing a 4-1 lead and then holding off the Orioles. Bert Campaneris singled in the first inning off loser Jim Palmer and doubles by Cater and Gosger produced two runs.

Home runs by George Thomas and Mike Ryan, coupled with five Yankee errors, helped the Red Sox down New York behind the six-hit pitching of Jose Santiago, who survived two home runs by Mickey Mantle.

Mantle smashed a two-run homer in the first inning and hit the ninth of the season with the bases empty in the eighth.

Willie Horton paced a 20-hit Detroit assault with two singles and a homer, driving in five runs as the Tigers climbed with 2 1/2 games of the league lead. Jake Wood knocked in four runs with three singles while Al Kaline and Norm Cash also homered for the Tigers.

Camilo Pascual and Al Worthington subdued Cleveland on five hits as the Twins rolled to their fourth victory in a row. Pascual worked seven innings before his arm stiffened and Worthington allowed one hit in finishing up. Tony Oliva, Cesar Tovar and Harmon Killebrew produced Minnesota runs with a homer, triple and double, respectively.

The Senators breezed past Chicago as left-hander Mike McCormick scattered five hits and belted a homer. Don Lock cracked a three-run homer for Washington while Bill Skowron had a homer, double and single for the White Sox.

WORLD BOXING Association heavyweight champion Ernie Terrell has his hands raised in victory after taking a 15-round decision from challenger Doug Jones. (UPI Telephoto)

Williams May Be Next

Terrell Gives Two Rounds, But Decisions Doug Jones

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Ernie Terrell of Chicago, the towering World Boxing Association champion who could give away two rounds on low blows and still win a lopsided decision over dogged New Yorker Doug Jones, may announce today the next defense of his title.

There were indications it might be Cleveland Williams, the Houston heavyweight on the comeback trail after a serious wound from a highway patrolman's gun.

Williams appeared on the card Tuesday night when Terrell won a unanimous 15-round decision over Jones before 9,346 fans who paid $102.165. Cleveland preceded to beat up Tod Herring of Houston so badly he got a technical knockout early in the third round.

Williams' manager, Hugh Benbow, already has offered $50,000 to Terrell to fight his boy. Terrell also has a $75,000 offer to fight Canadian George Chuvalo, the man he defended his title against the first time last November.

"I am ready to defend my title against anybody," said Terrell after his decision over Jones, who at 6-foot-1 and 187 1/2 pounds was five inches shorter and 22 pounds lighter than the towering Terrell.

Anyway, he has called a press conference today and probably will make known whom the third defense of his title will be against.

Jones was bitter about Terrell's holding tactics in the late rounds — something the crowd booed lustily.

But Terrell said, "The people always boo the big guy when a big guy and a little guy fight — and cheer the little guy. The referee kept pulling me off; I couldn't turn him loose. He would hit me on the breaks."

Jones said it was a wrestling match, not a boxing match. "I don't believe in holding. I was looking to get the best of him and he was looking to hold me."

The second and 14th rounds were taken away from Terrell for low blows. Before the referee, Ernie Taylor, could even rule on the second foul, a Jones second, Rollie Hackner, rushed across the ring and the referee had to order him out.

Sam Solomon, trainer for Terrell, said Jones should have been disqualified for the second's action "but we don't want it that way."

There were few damaging blows although Terrell got a cut over the right eye in the sixth round and Jones had a bloody nose in the eighth. Terrell used his left jab, for which he is noted, in a monotonous hammering of Jones' face.

But there never was any question who was going to win the fight even with rounds taken away because of fouls. It was actually called a dull fight by many of the fans although they expressed great admiration for Terrell's great left.

Terrell will get $40,866 from the live gate while Jones will receive $25,541. The right also was carried over 67 outlets on closed television and Terrell gets 42 1/2 per cent of that while Jones will receive 20 per cent. Terrell should wind up with about $250,000 from both sources and Jones about $125,000.

Terrell's record now is 39-4 including 18 knockouts. He has won 14 straight fights. Jones' record shows 29 victories, seven losses and one draw.

Williams Happy For Willie Mays

BOSTON (AP) — Ted Williams, one of the most feared sluggers in baseball history, is proud of his hitting feats but doesn't mind being passed in the all-time home run derby by a player of Willie Mays' calibre.

"I'm very happy for him," Williams said in extending Mays congratulations for displacing him as the game's No. 3 home run hitter. "Willie's a great guy and has been good for baseball."

Williams, scheduled for induction into the Hall of Fame next month at Cooperstown, N.Y., compiled an enviable record with the Boston Red Sox from 1939 until this retirement in 1960. Despite hitches as a Marine Corps flyer in World War II and the Korean War, he batted .344 and hit 521 homers in 19 seasons with the Red Sox.

Mays passed Williams by cracking his 522nd career homer in San Francisco's 2-1 victory at St. Louis Monday night. The Giants' spectacular centerfielder now trails only Babe Ruth (714) and Jimmy Foxx (534) in career homers.

"I knew he was going to catch me and I'm happy for him," Williams said on a visit to Fenway Park Tuesday night where he saw the Red Sox beat the New York Yankees. "Willie is a great ball player. He deserves all the praise he gets."

Williams, who will be 48 Aug. 30, is enjoying life while devoting time to various enterprises. He is a vice president of the Red Sox, promotes sporting goods for a department store chain (Sears Roebuck) and operates a baseball camp for boys in Lakeville, Mass.

"Right now I'm looking forward to the Hall of Fame ceremonies. It's certainly an honor to be going in with Casey Stengel. I'm going in with a tremendous man. No one has contributed more to baseball than Casey. I'm very proud. I've always said that there isn't a man in the game that I respect more," Williams said.

Upsets Mark Junior Event

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Two 18-hole match play rounds were scheduled today as activity picked up in the Mid-America Junior Golf Tournament.

Upsets spiced play in Tuesday's first round on the Possum Run course but defending champion Tom Norris of Findlay came through with a 2 and 1 victory over Robert McCready of Rocky River.

Two-time Ohio high school champion Yank Heisler of Ravenna also registered a 1-up decision over Paul Finley of Uniontown. Finley led Friday's qualifying round with a 69.

Medalist Gerald Lammers of Ida, Mich., was upset by Terry Cramond of Lancaster, 1-up in 19 holes and Tom Paul of Peninsula, the runnerup here in 1964, fell to Jim Short of Ontario, Canada, 5 and 4. Short was the Mid-America 1963 king.

Ralston's Service Could Carry Him To Net Finals

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Dennis Ralston's service — one of the most unpredictable in world tennis — could take him into the Wimbledon final today for the first time.

The U.S. Davis Cup star from Bakersfield, Calif., faced South Africa's Cliff Drysdale in the semifinals. And Drysdale admitted that Ralston's service can be brilliant, and "I know I must tame it if I am to beat him."

Ralston's service has been erratic throughout the tournament, and he dropped one set in each of his first four matches. But against Bob Hewitt of Australia in the quarter-finals the American had his service going well — and it took him to a comfortable straight sets victory.

He has an old score to settle with Drysdale. In the U.S. Championships at Forest Hills last year, the South African defeated him in a five-setter in the quarter-finals.

Apart from that the two men have met only twice — on clay courts. Ralston won one and Drysdale the other.

The other semifinal today was between Manuel Santana of Spain, winner at Forest Hills last year, and Owen Davidson, unseeded Australian left-hander.

If Santana does what is expected of him and knocks out Davidson, the final will be the first for 11 years without an Australian. That hasn't happened since Tony Trabert of the United States defeated Kurt Nielsen of Sweden in 1955.

Santana won a five-set classic against Australia's Ken Fletcher Tuesday on the center court. Fletcher, who had kept the wily Spaniard at full stretch with a fine display of hard hitting, finally cracked and Santana won 6-2, 3-6, 8-6, 4-6, 7-5.

Drysdale upset Australia's Tony Roche, the No. 2 seed, 9-7, 6-2, 6-2.

Australian hopes have slid to almost zero, the three top Aussie stars — defending champion Roy Emerson, three time runner-up Fred Stolle and now Roche — have been tumbled out.

Davidson, a unseeded left-hander whom nobody took seriously, found himself carrying the Australian flag alone.

The center court, greasy and slippery after intermittent rain throughout the last week, has proved the downfall of both Emerson and Britain's Bobby Wilson, who slipped and hurt his knee while playing Santana.

It almost claimed another victim Tuesday, Mrs. Ann Jones, British left-hander who is aiming for the women's title. She defeated Nancy Richey of Dallas, Tex., 4-6, 6-1, 6-1 and went sprawling as the American girl hit the last shot of the match out of court.

Ann limped off the court but said later she was all right. She twisted her left ankle in the fall. It was her third victory over Miss Richey this year. She previously defeated her in the final of the French Championships and in the Wightman Cup.

In the other quarter-finals Tuesday the defending champion, Margaret Smith of Australia, crushed Trudy Groenman of the Netherlands 6-0, 6-4. Maria Bueno of Brazil downed Francoise Durr of France 6-4, 6-3 and Billie Jean Moffitt King of Long Beach, Calif., overcame Annette Van Zyl of South Africa 1-6, 6-2, 6-4.

In Thursday's semifinals Miss Smith will play Mrs. King and Mrs. Jones will face Miss Bueno.

Toronto Star Becomes 1st To Capture 10

By The Associated Press

If the Toronto Maple Leafs finally make it to the first division in the International League race, Gary Waslewski will be one of the players most responsible.

Waslewski, a 24-year-old right-hander, became the league's first 10-game winner Tuesday night when he whipped Columbus 5-3 in 10 innings. He now has accounted for almost one-third of the Maple Leafs' 33 victories.

The defeat shaved the Jets' lead over second-place Rochester to three games as the Red Wings turned back Richmond 4-2 for the 10th time in 12 games with the Braves.

Buffalo moved to within four games of Columbus by beating the Toledo Mud Hens 8-6 in the second game of a doubleheader after losing the opener 4-1.

The Jacksonville Suns edged Syracuse 4-3 in another 10-inning encounter.

Waslewski needed relief help in the 10th from Fred Wenz, who struck out the last Columbus batter with two men on base. Bob Sadowski's two-run homer in the top of the 10th was the deciding blow for Toronto.

Four unearned runs in the seventh, the last two coming home on Frank Obregon's double, brought Buffalo from behind in the second game at Toledo. The Mud Hens took the opener on the six-hit pitching of Dick Hughes and Tony Przbycien and home runs by Mike Hegan and Mike Ferraro.

U.S. Team Out To Repeat In Rowing Event

HENLEY-ON-THAMES, England (AP) — Washington-Lee High School from Arlington, Va. leads a strong U.S. challenge in the four-day Henley Royal Regatta on the River Thames today.

The American squad, who won the Princes Elizabeth Cup for schoolboy eights at Henley in 1964, is drawn against Britain's University College School. "We are pretty confident of pulling it off again this year," said Washington-Lee Coach Charlie Utt.

Main regatta interest centers around the powerful Vesper Boat Club of Philadelphia—favorites to win the regatta's premier Grand Challenge Cup event. Vesper was still awaiting the arrival of its shell from the United States. It was due to arrive by air today. But thanks to a first round bye, Vesper does not have to compete until Friday.

They are likely to meet a powerful East German crew, Turn Und Sportsclub of Berlin, which set the whole river bank talking Tuesday with its smart practice.

Within 90 minutes of arrival in Henley, the German squad stripped, assembled their boat and took off up river.

"That's a pretty smart performance, and we are not taking any chances with them," said Alan Rosenberg, coach of the Vesper eight.

East Germany is also mounting a strong challenge in the diamond skulls, with Olympic silver medalist Achim Hill.

Hill meets the powerful New Zealander, Murry Watkinson, in the first round.

The East Germans are also represented in the silver goblets event for paired oars with JKO Lucke and Heinz Jurgen Bothe.

The Harvard University lightweight, well fancied in the Thames Cup for eights, faced the strong Irish Club Garda Siochana today. Harvard is heavily favored to win the event despite a mixed showing in practice over the last few days.

Massachusetts Youth Signs Pirate Contract

PITTSBURGH (AP) — An 18-year-old Norwood, Mass., youth, the No. 1 draft choice of the Pittsburgh Pirates, has been signed by the National League club.

The Pirates announced the signing Tuesday of Richard Hebner.

A shortstop for Norwood High School, Hebner won all-state honors in baseball and hockey. He will report to the Pirates' Salem, Va., team in the Appalachian Rookie League.

Baseball Chief Points To 4-Team Expansion

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Baseball Commissioner William D. Eckert says there is a possibility of a four-team expansion in the major leagues within five years.

The former Air Force general, speaking at a news conference, said Tuesday that expansion is inevitable, perhaps within two years and probably no more than eight years away.

"It's my desire to see that the fans' demand for major league baseball is satisfied," he said. "If you want to narrow it down in terms of years, I think five years would be the right time period for further expansion."

The commissioner, in his first year as head of the majors, said most of the current expansion talk is coming from the press, pointing to the fact that the majors did undergo a recent 25 percent expansion.

Eckert said it was his impression that the major league owners were "anything but cautious" in discussing the expansion issue.

He said it would not be in the public interest to add new clubs when they could not meet the current competition. Lack of good players slows expansion, he added.

Clay Schedules 2 Fights In Succession Overseas

NEW YORK (AP) — Heavyweight champion Cassius Clay will meet erratic, unranked Brian London in London Aug. 6 or 13 and Germany's Karl Mildenberger in Frankfurt, Germany, Sept. 10 or 17 in an effort to cash in quickly on his popularity overseas.

Arthur Grafton, attorney for Clay's Louisville sponsoring group, and British promoter Lawrie Lewis Tuesday night confirmed The Associated Press' report that the London fight was all set for the indoor Wembley Stadium, which seats 12,000 on Aug. 6 the most likely date.

"It's all settled," said Grafton after a meeting with Lewis, who represents British promoter Jack Solomons.

Grafton and Lewis called a press conference for today to announce some of the details of the Clay-London fight.

"Yeah, I'm gonna fight the two of them," said Clay at a downtown movie house where he watched the telecast of the Ernie Terrell-Doug Jones fight at Houston, Tex. for Terrell's World Boxing Association heavyweight title, which Terrell retained.

The Mildenberger-Clay fight would depend on Clay's beating the 32-year-old former British champion. He'll be about a 15-1 favorite for that.

The fights also depend on Clay getting clearance from his draft board to go overseas. He is classified 1-A, making him subject to military call-up, but he has appealed his classification.

Clay was cleared for his defenses against George Chuvalo in Toronto, Canada, March 29, and against Henry Cooper in London May 21. He outpointed Chuvalo in a one-sided 15-rounder and stopped Cooper on cuts in the sixth round.

Both overseas fights will be telecast to the United States and other parts of the world by Early Bird Satellite just as it was done for the Cooper fight.

London, once called "too old, too short, too fat and too ugly" by Clay, has a 35-13 won-loss record, including 26 knockouts. He has been stopped five times. He was knocked out by Floyd Patterson, then the heavyweight champion, in the 11th round at Indianapolis, May 1, 1959.

Mildenberger, the European champion, has a 49-23 won-loss-draw record, including 17 knockouts. He has been stopped twice. The handsome, 28-year-old left-hander is a boxer who relies mostly on his jabbing. He is ranked fifth contender by the WBA and fourth by Ring Magazine.

Report Awaited On Proposals In Interstate Work

CLEVELAND (AP) — The State Highway Department expects to hear a consultants' report next Tuesday with recommendations on what should be done with Interstate 71 construction in the Jennings Road where giant support columns have shifted as much as one foot.

No construction work has been done at the site, near the Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. plant and Metropolitan General Hospital, since the shift was discovered several days ago.

No further shifting has occurred since then, according to Allan V. Johnson, State Highway Department expediting engineer on the project.

However, cracks have been discovered in four 50-foot concrete silos at the hospital, with 10 feet of freeway construction.

County Set To Launch 4 Anti-Poverty Programs

LISBON — Four anti-poverty projects totaling $29,540 are scheduled to be in operation Friday, furnishing employment to 54 low-income young people 16-21.

Miss Catherine Franzetta, director of the Community Action Committee of Columbiana County, Inc., said the projects are: Hammond Park, Wellsville, 25 boys and five girls; Lisbon parks improvement, nine boys and one girl; Lisbon Cemetery, six boys, and Beaver Creek State Park, eight boys.

Donald Lowe, assistant principal at Wellsville High School, will be director of the four-phase program beginning Friday and ending Sept. 2. The four projects originally were submitted by the CAC to the Office of Economic Opportunity regional office in Chicago. Since all OEO funds have been expended for the fiscal year, the four proposals were grouped as one and submitted to the Neighborhood Youth Corps for financing under its emergency fund.

Rep. Wayne L. Hays of the 18th Congressional District arranged for a review of the program by the local representatives and OEO officers for revision and financing.

Miss Franzetta, Mrs. Helen Welch of Wellsville, vice chairman of the CAC, and Atty. Joseph Barozzi of Lisbon, CAC counsel, flew to Chicago Friday evening to work out details. Miss Franzetta and Mrs. Welch remained until Sunday afternoon, changing the projects from OEO to NYC. The county director said she was assured the funds will be approved by Friday.

The NYC emergency fund is to provide $26,350 of the total. The difference is the amount Wellsville, Lisbon and Beaver Creek will provide through "in-kind" assistance, such as tools, supervision and engineering help.

The Hammond Park projects call for construction of a shelter, rest rooms, a playground and ballfield and installation of electricity.

Lisbon's Youth Corps detail will clear woods at Willow Grove Park, develop picnic and parking areas at the park, and do repair work and paint the iron bridge in the cemetery.

Boys on the Beaver Creek project will clear brush, make picnic areas and do some work on the restoration of Gaston's Mill.

Chester Kiwanis To Attend Pirate Game On July 18

Plans to attend the Pittsburgh-San Francisco baseball game in Pittsburgh July 18 were discussed during the meeting of Chester Kiwanis Club Tuesday night at City Hall Auditorium.

Club members, their wives and others wishing to attend are to contact Lloyd Mansfield by Friday night of this week for bus reservations.

If insufficient reservations are received to charter a bus, the trip will be made in private automobiles, Mansfield said.

Invocation was given by the Rev. Robert Schondelmayer. Twenty attended the meeting. Albert Kell presided.

Following the program, conducted by Thayer Allison, the group toured the Stratton dam. Dewey McPherson, lockmaster, explained the mechanical operation of the locks.

A family picnic will be held July 12 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Seeley of Lotus Ave.

The next regular meeting will be Tuesday.

TO THE THIEF . . .

Who broke in and ransacked our room in the Travelers Hotel, Friday night, June 24, would you be kind enough to please return the papers and my Army Discharge paper that was in one of the two pieces of luggage you took. These papers are of no value to you! Please return these papers to Box 244, East Liverpool, Ohio.

I hope you enjoy yourself traveling with my luggage and also the money and the travel clock you took.

The electric shaver you took has a short in it, and if you apply it to your face it could electrify you. And then you would not be able to pull off another job —

White Voters Follow Racial Lines

4 Negroes Are Defeated In Carolina Election Bid

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — White voters apparently cast their ballots solidly along racial lines to defeat four Negro candidates who had been given a good chance to win Democratic nominations to the all-white South Carolina Legislature.

Voting in adjoining Williamsburg and Clarendon counties followed racial lines closely. Vote totals in the runoff primary Tuesday indicated almost all eligible voters, Negro and white, cast ballots.

Both Negroes and whites had claimed a slight edge in voting registrations in the two central South Carolina counties.

The four Negro candidates had led the legislative races in the June 14 primary which eliminated several white candidates. However, all the white voters apparently rallied behind the white candidates for the runoff.

In Clarendon County, a Negro minister, the Rev. J. S. Hunter, lost his bid for nomination to the county's lone seat in the state House of Representatives. He said he would file a protest involving ballots cast in two precincts in Summerton.

Final tabulations gave the Rev. Mr. Hunter 3,665 votes to 3,878 votes for his white opponent, Joseph Coker.

In Williamsburg, where Negroes sought all three of the county's legislative seats, Kingstre undertaker Virgil Dimery lost the Senate nomination to LaNue Floyd, who had 5,828 votes to Dimery's 4,041.

Incumbent state Rep. J. Henry Stuckey and Ernest W. Carter defeated Negro candidates J. E. Lawrence and Purvis Easley for the two House seats in Williamsburg County. Stuckey had 5,989 votes, Carter 5,949, Lawrence 4,179 and Easley 4,073.

A Negro, Virgin Johnson, also was defeated in a runoff race with two white candidates for two seats on the Hampton County Council.

Federal observers kept close watch on the voting in Clarendon County. Hundreds of Negroes have been added to the county's voter list since federal registrars were sent in last November.

South Carolina's 1967 General Assembly thus will retain its all-white makeup maintained since 1901 when a Negro legislator served in the House.

Construction on France's Maggot Line, which faces the German border, began in 1930 and was completed in 1933. The Germans in World War II never attacked it. They simply bypassed it.

2 Coraopolis Youths Are Killed In Crash

ZELLENOPLE, Pa. (AP) — Two Coraopolis teenagers were killed Tuesday in the collision of two trucks on a rural road near this Butler County community.

The victims were Joseph A. Arrigo, 18, driver of one of the vehicles, and a passenger, Donald Bucek, 19.

Two persons in the second truck escaped injury.

State police said the Arrigo truck apparently went out of control on the crest of a hill and slammed head-on into the second vehicle.

TV Due For New Image

shows that even between 7 and 9 p.m. "togetherness" is only 27.5 per cent. But if critics keep laboring the point, and if broadcasters don't take steps to set the record straight, the unanalytical layman may easily come to share the critics' view.

One of Danish's "unanalytical laymen" wrote me recently to protest the meager fare on her TV set. She is Mrs. Paul Mitchell, a former Powers model, but now a housewife with three children. Mrs. Mitchell and her husband watch only three or four programs a week, she says, including old movies. "My 4-year-old likes 'My Mother the Car,' 'Please Don't Eat the Daisies' and 'Gilligan's Island,'" reports Mrs. Mitchell. "My 11-year-old likes 'Batman' and 'Get Smart,' and my 19-year-old likes 'Dean Martin' and 'Get Smart,' but those are the only two he watches. He has watched 'Batman,' but doesn't make a point of doing so."

NATURALLY, one Mrs. Mitchell doesn't make a TV statistic, but I suspect there is an ever-growing legion of Mrs. Mitchells. Where will be Messrs. Danish and Nielsen continue to find that "61 per cent adults only" audience for half-hour TV shows or the conveniently arbitrary 45 per cent or less kid audiences prescribed by the cigarette companies? Why, in their hats, of course.

By the Consolidation Act passed in 1896 by the New York State Legislature, New York City's boundaries were extended to include the five counties of New York, Bronx, Brooklyn, Queens and Richmond to form Greater New York.

The "Nielsen" referred to here by Danish is the same one who has the rating machines in 1100 "random sample" homes and whose chief subscribers to his service are the networks and advertising agencies.

The latter have all the big cigarette accounts. And do you remember when "togetherness" used to be a word cherished by TV's leaders, who preached the gospel that a TV set kept the family in the living rooms of America? Apparently, that's all over, too, according to Tio's Danish.

"TOGETHERNESS — adults watching with children under 18 — occurred in only one-quarter of the homes," claims Danish. "Another Nielsen study

Lunar Night Chills Photos Of Surveyor

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — America's camera on the moon, Surveyor 1, failed Tuesday night to respond to initial commands sent to reactivate it after the super-cold lunar night — two weeks at temperatures as low as 260 degrees below zero.

Said a spokesman at Jet Propulsion Laboratory, which sent the commands: "This was not totally expected. We hoped it would work."

The 620-pound spacecraft which began sending pictures June 1 after a soft landing on the moon, transmitted more than 10,000 pictures before it was engulfed in the lunar night June 14.

JPL, through its Goldstone, Calif., transmitter, attempted to stir Surveyor again for 3½ hours beginning at 6 p.m., approximately 5½ hours before the lunar sunrise.

The JPL spokesman said further transmissions would be sent Wednesday and Thursday night, and, if unsuccessful, another attempt would be made.

July 7 when the craft's solar panels face the sun at lunar noon.

Three reasons were given why initial attempts to revive Surveyor failed: the craft's batteries could be completely dead; since it was still lunar night, it was too cold for Surveyor to answer; or the extreme cold disrupted the contact frequencies.

Grand Jury Indicts 2 In Murder At Dayton

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Two first-degree murder indictments have been returned by the Montgomery County Grand Jury in the death of a Dayton man whose body was found along a Preble County creek bed last April.

James H. Haines, 52, and Mrs. Geneva Shaner had previously been indicted for the April 29 slaying of Mrs. Shaner's husband Harold. Police said the two planned to go to Mexico together after the slaying.

Truck, Station Wagon Damaged In Collision

A truck and a station wagon were damaged in a collision Tuesday at 6:24 p. m. at the junction of a Freeway ramp and W. 8th St., police reported.

The mishap involved a 1963 rig owned by Tank Truck Rentals, Inc., of Lancaster, Pa., and operated by Frank H. Turner, 53, of Mercer, Pa. and a 1960 station wagon owned by the Keystone Construction Co. of Youngstown and driven by D. A. Angelmo 49, also of Youngstown, officers reported.

Angelmo reported he pulled off the ramp and was starting to make a U-turn onto W. 8th St. when he was hit by Turner's rig. Turner, who was following Angelmo, said the Youngstown man "went from a dead stop to a left turn without giving a signal." No one was cited.

The new benefits include lengthening coverage of after-accident care in hospital emergency rooms from 24 to 72 hours following the accident, increased payments for special nursing care in hospitals under "extended benefit" contracts, and broader provisions for hospital drugs for accident care.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — How can I create a smoother surface on my very rough cellar walls?

A. — Whip up a mix consisting of two parts of mortar cement to one part of sand containing calcium chloride, adding enough water to get a thin, mud-like consistency. This gives you a waterproof cement and may be applied to the walls before your waterproofing paint with a large metal mason's trowel.

Q. — How can I make a good job of cleaning out ashtrays?

A. — With denatured alcohol, a stiff brush, and a good scrubbing. This method will clean either brass or copper ashtrays that are discolored by tobacco and nicotine, and a good, brisk workout will leave the metal looking like new.

Bringing Up A Family

Child Should Talk About His Feelings

We have been reading and hearing much about efforts by teachers of children in disadvantaged areas, how timed they are about talking, and how limited their speech; how meager, moreover, their experiences are. Recently we discussed the way of good teachers of most children in the primary grades to enrich their experiences so they have more to talk about. Clearly this effort is very desirable with children in disadvantaged areas.

We noted that young school children often are taken to such places as an airport, bus station, farm or food stores. These children on their return to school talk about what they saw and heard. We observed that their teacher in the early grades writes or prints on the blackboard some of the children's statements of what they saw and heard. Thus these children begin to read meaningful words, phrases and sentences.

WE ALSO said we wished more teachers of these young children would cause them to talk about everyday experiences at home, and when they are able to write, to write about them.

Today I want to discuss with you another item — causing the young schoolchild to tell of some of his feelings connected with the experiences he relates. How did he feel, for instance, when he saw an airplane land or take off? When he saw the animals at the farm? Did any of them frighten him? Were other children frightened by any of these farm animals?

Any child in the primary grades may want to tell of a time when his baby brother or sister was terribly frightened, how this baby acted then, and what was done to help him get over his fright. Some other child may want to tell of different things his baby brother or sister was afraid of and how he helped this baby to fear these things no longer.

Another child may want to tell of a time when he saw some person frighten a young child "just to see him scared." Then several other children may speak up to condemn anyone who would try to frighten anybody. Some young children might choose to talk of a time when they themselves were terribly frightened how they felt and acted then.

IF THE teacher can help every child who talks about such experiences, especially his fears, to feel no hesitancy at talking of such, this child and other children may go on talking freely. This means that no child will fear that others in the class might laugh at anything he tells.

When such a fine classroom atmosphere of confidence and security is established, some children may begin to talk about the fears they themselves have had while talking in the classroom. They will see that these fears have been caused by other children laughing at what they say.

In the future all the children may learn to keep themselves from laughing or doing anything else while another child is talking, which might make him feel uncomfortable.

Some young children like to talk about a baby brother or sister getting very angry or flying into a tantrum (rage). He may tell about times when he himself was very angry, and how he felt and acted then; also of what other persons must have thought about him then.

What we are trying to get at is that many a shy and timid young child may want to talk in class if he can tell some of his feelings. See the opportunities in these directions to help children as they begin to write, and have more to write about, and to write more eagerly and interestingly.

3 California Men

Cited On Dope Charge
BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—Authorities who arrested three California men Monday have charged the trio with aiding and abetting in possession of narcotics.

Terry Zenavle, 21, Manhattan Beach, who was charged with possession of narcotics, and Joseph R. Phelan, 23, Santa Susana, and Harvey W. Armstrong, Manhattan Beach, were bound over to the Wood County Grand Jury Tuesday.

Truck Crash Causes Fire, Snarls Traffic

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A tank truck smashed into an overpass abutment on heavily traveled Interstate 71 during the late afternoon rush hour Tuesday, causing a spectacular fire and paralyzing traffic for hours.

Miraculously, the truck driver suffered only minor injuries and no one else was hurt although for several hours firemen feared an explosion from gasoline fumes.

City Safety Director Fred Simon said it would be "two or three" days before either the Cleveland Avenue entrance to the north freeway or I-71 would be open to traffic.

Police said the accident occurred when another tractor trailer swerved to avoid a car which apparently was trying to change lanes. The second tractor bumped the gasoline truck and sent it careening off the road.

The truck, towing two gasoline tanks, smashed into the pier of an overpass carrying Cleveland Avenue above the freeway. One tank overturned, burst into flame and then exploded.

The driver, Harry Reynolds, 56, of suburban Lockbourne, suffered only minor head injuries. At least a dozen cars were caught in the flames but their occupants escaped unharmed.

The scorching flames melted metal signs along the I-71 freeway and when firemen arrived the entire bridge appeared to be in flames. The bridge was heavily damaged.

Youngstown Boy, 8, Is Drowning Victim

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—An 8-year-old boy whose mother said he could not swim, apparently drowned Tuesday in 11 feet of water at a municipal swimming pool here.

Ed Finamore, director of the Youngstown Park and Recreation Department, said Bradford Liggins Haywood had followed playmates into the deepest section of the Lincoln Park pool.

His body was recovered by three lifeguards during the first hourly check of the water after the pool opened at noon.

His death was the first at a municipal swimming pool here since 1956.

Junior Editors Quiz on LLAMAS

QUESTION: Where did the llamas of South America come from?

ANSWER: We are all familiar with big, clumsy Old World camel (1) But it will surprise many to find out that the camel's ancestors did not come from the Old World but from North America.

About 38 million years ago, animals about the size of a sheep, with long neck and legs, appeared in North America. Some of these wandered to Asia and North Africa (America and Asia being connected at that time) and became the ancestors to the camel, which grew very large. Others migrated to South America. These were the ancestors of the llamas of today. The vicuna (2) is small but has a valuable fleece. The guanaco (3) is larger. Both of these are wild animals; it is thought the two other forms have been domesticated from the guanaco. The alpaca (4) is raised for its valuable wool and the llama (5) for its meat, hide and value in transportation. Like all camels, llamas are haughty and stubborn. When given too heavy a load, they lie down.

FOR YOU TO DO: Look up an article on geology and see if you can find a map showing how America and Asia were once connected.

Kathy Card of Santa Cruz, Calif., wins today's combined prize of Compton's Illustrated Science Dictionary plus $10 cash for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review.

Ohio Truck Driver Critical After Wreck

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — Arnold White, a truck driver from Mount Vernon, was listed in critical condition early today in Riverside Hospital in Columbus following a two-truck collision two miles west of here. Authorities said the accident, which happened Tuesday afternoon, came on the rain-slick road after the two vehicles met on a curve. The other driver, who was not identified, was not hurt.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruze —

Dear Heloise: Here's a hint for anyone who has a checking account:

When a new bank statement comes in, I take a different colored pencil to check off the statement and that month's checks from my checkbook.

I use colored drawing pencils, and if I use blue this month, the next statement will be checked in orange, red, or green.

I can spot, at a glance, where I left off.

At one time, I used a ball point pen to check them off, but always had to check twice as hard to find the place where I ended. Also, for the checks that are still "out," I put an "O" in the marking-off column.

I can then check them off in the next statement to show they have come in.

Try it and see. It sure is a wonderful way to balance your checkbook.

CONTRASTING COLORS.

DEAR HELOISE: Break up a slice of crisply cooked bacon into very small crumbs, and beat in into one stick of margarine.

After beating it, always keep the "bacon butter" cool.

The bacon gives the margarine a delicious flavor.

ANNA HUDDERS.

Oh! Anna, you are making me hungry for a slice of toast or a hot biscuit with some of that bacon butter—and I'll bet it would be out of this world on a piece of cornbread! On a baked potato? Wow!

HELOISE

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: Whenever I need a measuring cup in a hurry, they are always at the bottom of the dishwasher.

I have only one set of measuring cups, but having had three babies, in as many years, I always have baby bottles in the cupboard. In a pinch, the bottles measure liquid as easily and accurately as anything else.

I guess when the babies grow up, I'll have to buy more measuring cups!

PAT RUSSICK.

DEAR HELOISE: I put my loose face powder in a pretty, plastic salt shaker.

This makes it so easy to get the powder on the puff instead of everywhere else!

EVA D. HESSER.

DEAR HELOISE: I use pipe cleaners to clean the little wheel on my electric can opener, and where grease and dirt collect.

EDWINA BROWN.

DEAR GALS: Have you ever been caught without another drop of white shoe polish—and wanted to wear your white leather shoes?

As an emergency treatment, dampen a piece of cotton with plain old rubbing alcohol, wring it out real good and rub it all over those white shoes!

I will remove the soiled spots and the build-up of polish, you can use a piece of cotton and a dash of rubbing alcohol to remove this excess polish before you polish them again.

How about that?!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Having old double-type laundry tubs, I connect both plugs together with a chain or beaded link (bought in the dime store).

I make the chain long enough to reach over the dividing partition of the tubs.

This way I never have to reach into the hot water with my hand to find the plug—I just pull the chain...

Be sure the chain is rust-proof.

SUSAN C. KULIC.

Skippers 32-Foot Sailboat

New Foreign Aid Chief Works 11 Hours Daily

WASHINGTON (AP) — William S. Gaud, nominated by President Johnson to head the nation's massive foreign aid program, works 11-hour days and brings home reading at night. He also skippers a 32-foot sailboat named Content.

"I spend all the weekends I can on her," Gaud said in an interview.

Gaud's weekends may start getting shorter after July 31, the day he is scheduled to replace David E. Bell as administrator of the Agency for International Development.

President Johnson announced Bell's resignation Tuesday and coupled it with the nomination of Gaud, who has been deputy administrator of AID since 1964.

Bell is to become vice president of the Ford Foundation in charge of international activities. He said he was resigning for personal reasons and not because of any dispute with the administration. "I am bushed and I am broke, but I am not mad at anyone," he told a newsman. He said he was delighted with the appointment of Gaud as his successor.

Gaud, 58, an affable Yale graduate who joined the agency as assistant administrator in 1961, said he plans no policy changes.

"I'll follow the same policies," he said. "We're on the right track."

The nominee outlined his philosophy about the $2.5 billion foreign aid program this way: "We live in a world that's changing fast; that's going to continue to change. It's to our advantage to do what we can to see that the world moves in the direction we want to see it move and that we end up in a world of freedom and opportunity and independent nations.

"It's a period of rising expectations on the part of developing countries and a period of increased obligations on the part of developed countries. Both for reasons of self-interest and idealism, we should do what we can to help developing nations improve their lot."

Working with underdeveloped countries will be nothing new for Gaud. His first aid job was handling assistance for the Middle East and South Asia.

While in the Army during World War II, he was responsible for military assistance to China, India and Burma. Gaud emerged from the Army in 1945 as a colonel and with the Legion of Merit and the Order of the British Empire.

He worked briefly for the War Department after his discharge and in 1946 went into private law practice in New York City. A native of New York, Gaud had joined the corporation counsel's office there after graduating from Yale Law School in 1932.

He has been considered a workhorse in the operating end of the AID program since becoming deputy administrator.

Gaud said he would like to see Congress approve long-range programs, instead of providing aid on a year-to-year basis.

Besides sailing, the slim, brown-haired Gaud enjoys tennis. He and his wife, Eleanor, have one daughter, Anne, who will be a senior next year at Vassar College.

Gaud will earn $30,000 yearly as administrator of AID.

Mrs. Doris Earl, noble grand, was in charge of the regular meeting, and Mrs. Neva Webb of London, district president of the Assembly officers, was in charge of the school.

A rating of "excellent" was received by the Salineville lodge. Gifts were presented to the district and assembly officers by Miss Gladwyn Hull.

Mrs. Hazel Hart of Maple Hill was elected president of the new district officers.

A dinner was served. The next meeting will be in September.

In 1907 New York City established special classes for the blind and partially sighted in the public schools and a school for the deaf was started a year later.

Charge Is Dismissed

LISBON — Mayor Dean Stockman dismissed a charge of failure to obey a traffic signal against Russell Leroy Albright of E. Lincoln Way Tuesday night.

The State Highway Patrol arrested Albright June 3 at Routes 30 and 154 here. Notations on the affidavit show he pleaded not guilty June 14, had the hearing continued until June 21, then obtained another postponement. Patrol Post 15 at Lisbon said the arresting officer was advised on postponement the hearing would be held "sometime in July" and he did not know of the hearing last night.

Auto Safety Bill Due Okay By House Unit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Commerce Committee is moving toward adoption of tough auto safety legislation while making clear it does not intend to be pushed into hasty action.

Two key votes Tuesday showed strong support within the committee for legislation similar to that passed by the Senate last week. But the committee defeated a move to speed up its deliberations as it voted down a proposal to accept the entire Senate bill.

Although the committee planned to meet again today, final action will be delayed until after Congress returns from a July 4th recess in two weeks.

"It's better to have a good bill than to rush one through," said the committee chairman, Rep. Harley O. Staggers, D-W.Va.

Staggers admitted that White House officials had contacted his office to indicate their interest in swift action.

In one important vote, the committee rejected by a substantial majority a proposal offered by Rep. Glenn C. Cunningham, R-Neb., and supported by the auto industry to take away from the secretary of commerce the major role in setting new car safety standards.

Cunningham's proposal would have shifted much of the power to the Vehicle Equipment Safety Commission, a 44-state compact which has been denounced by some safety proponents as dominated by the auto industry.

Then the committee voted to accept a Senate provision providing for consultation between the secretary and the safety commission of new car standards "as he deems appropriate." But it took out a provision which said the consultation would have to include an opportunity for the commission to study and comment on proposed standards.

Pending amendments before the committee would write into the House version the Senate provision to require promulgation of interim standards by next Jan. 31 so they can be incorporated into 1968 models.

Open Housing Plan Remains In Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — A tough open housing proposal remained in the administration's civil right bill today after a series of inconclusive votes in the House Judiciary Committee.

In a frustrating, day-long meeting Tuesday, the committee refused to kill the controversial issue, refused to weaken it and refused to approve it intact. It meets again today in hopes of settling the matter.

Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., summed up the mood of the supporters of an open housing law when he said, "I'm happy inwardly that it is still intact, but from a practical standpoint the situation may prove disappointing."

Celler said he meant that a sweeping ban on racial discrimination in the sale and rental of all housing could be defeated more easily on the House floor than a bill that exempted some forms of housing.

From the pattern of voting in the committee Tuesday it appeared that was the strategy guiding some opponents of the measure. The meeting was closed and no votes were made public. But it was reported by some in attendance that Southern Democrats and conservative Republicans joined liberals in opposing amendments that would have softened the provision.

The housing provision is part of an omnibus bill whose other sections deal with selection of state and federal jurors, school desegregation and protecting Negroes' rights. The other sections already have been approved by the committee and are expected to encounter little opposition on the House floor outside of that from Southerners.

No Southerners on the committee would comment publicly on their positions, but many are known to be looking forward to seeing Northern House members have to vote on the record for or against an open housing law. It is widely believed in the House that in such a vote the proposal would be defeated.

Early in the session the committee defeated, 17 to 15, a motion to kill the housing provision. Some five hours later a motion to approve it was defeated 25 to 6. In between a whole series of amendments to exempt certain kinds of housing were beaten — mostly by margins of two or three votes.

Auto Safety Bill Due Okay By House Unit
WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Commerce Committee is moving toward adoption of tough auto safety legislation while making clear it does not intend to be pushed into hasty action.

Two key votes Tuesday showed strong support within the committee for legislation similar to that passed by the Senate last week. But the committee defeated a move to speed up its deliberations as it voted down a proposal to accept the entire Senate bill.

Although the committee planned to meet again today, final action will be delayed until after Congress returns from a July 4th recess in two weeks.

"It's better to have a good bill than to rush one through," said the committee chairman, Rep. Harley O. Staggers, D-W.Va.

Staggers admitted that White House officials had contacted his office to indicate their interest in swift action.

In one important vote, the committee rejected by a substantial majority a proposal offered by Rep. Glenn C. Cunningham, R-Neb., and supported by the auto industry to take away from the secretary of commerce the major role in setting new car safety standards.

Cunningham's proposal would have shifted much of the power to the Vehicle Equipment Safety Commission, a 44-state compact which has been denounced by some safety proponents as dominated by the auto industry.

Then the committee voted to accept a Senate provision providing for consultation between the secretary and the safety commission of new car standards "as he deems appropriate." But it took out a provision which said the consultation would have to include an opportunity for the commission to study and comment on proposed standards.

Pending amendments before the committee would write into the House version the Senate provision to require promulgation of interim standards by next Jan. 31 so they can be incorporated into 1968 models.

Ohio Traffic Mishaps Cost Eight Lives

By The Associated Press

Among Ohio's latest traffic victims are a woman and her grandson.

The dead:

Victor Martin, 25, Sandusky.

Mrs. Helen Jira, 57, Parma, and Kevin Jira, 7, Broadview Heights.

Howard P. Christy, 65, Meigs County highway engineer.

George M. Williams, 63, West Union.

Darrin Smith, 4 months, Erie, Pa.

William G. McDaniel, 39, Indianapolis, Ind.

Paul Morris, 34, Columbus.

Martin died Tuesday night in Elyria Hospital of injuries suffered Sunday when his motorcycle and a car collided in Sandusky.

Mrs. Jira and her grandson were killed Tuesday when the car they were riding in was struck by an Erie Lackawanna freight train south of Chardon. Three other persons in the car were injured.

Christy, who worked in both Washington and Meigs counties, was killed Tuesday when a highway roller he was operating overturned near Belpre. He was crushed beneath the machine.

Williams died Tuesday in Adams County hospital of injuries he suffered Monday in a one-car accident near Manchester.

Darrin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gifford Smith, was killed Tuesday when the car he was riding in struck a sign post on the Ohio Turnpike west of the Sandusky-Norwalk interchange. Six persons, including Darrin's parents, were injured.

McDaniel was killed Tuesday when his oil tank truck ran into a ditch along Ohio 50 east of McArthur, Vinton County.

Morris was killed early Wednesday in a head-on collision of his automobile with another car on a fog shrouded hill a mile northeast of Harveysburg in Warren County. The other driver, Daryl Orner of Wilmington was treated at Clinton Memorial Hospital and released.

Installation Continues For New Curb Meters

Continuing a gradual process that began last week, the city has completed installation of nearly 25 per cent of the 503 new parking meters delivered in mid-June. Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey said today.

S. James Welch, meter repairman, has placed 115 of the new devices on standards, the director said. As each new meter is installed, an old device is removed from the metal post and returned to City Hall to be turned in to the supplier as a "trade-in" — part of the city's contract.

The new meters are stored in the police garage. Welch moves them in "installments" of 12 to the installation site, places them on the standards and returns the old meters.

Contractor Continues Surfacing Of Auto Lot

The Tri-State Asphalt Corp. of East Liverpool and Martins Ferry, contractor, is continuing work launched Tuesday on blacktop surfacing of the new Ceramic Annex parking lot. Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey said today.

In addition to the new lot, the firm will surface an adjoining parking site at E. 3rd and Market Sts. and a section of Church Alley which divides the annex and the Ceramic Lot proper, the director explained.

The first course of the pavement was completed yesterday and work on the second course was under way today. The lot is scheduled to remain closed after the surfacing to permit installation of guard rails and parking meters.

Dunlevy In New Post At Maryland School

Keith H. Dunlevy, a former principal of Neville and Klondyke schools here and former playground director, is now working toward a doctorate in education at the University of Maryland.

Dunlevy, who now resides in Wheaton, Md., recently was named assistant principal at Bushy Drive Elementary School, Silver Spring, Md., which received the "Pacemaker Award" this month "for its program of flexible grouping which accommodates pupils' interests and natural rates of progress."

The award is made annually by Parade magazine and the National Education Association.

Provident Hospital and Training School in Chicago was organized in 1891 by Dr. Daniel Hale Williams as one of the first training schools for Negro interns and nurses. Doctor Williams, a noted American surgeon, was the only Negro charter member of the American College of Surgeons.

Conservation Air Tour Scheduled On July 13

LISBON — Columbiana County agricultural agencies are planning a conservation air tour of the county's heartland Wednesday, July 13.

The 25-minute flight will begin at the Loudon air strip on Route 172, west of New Garden, and cover 45 miles east and west.

Don Sickafoose of Magnolia, operator of a flying school, will furnish the planes. The fee will be $3.50, the same as last July 14 when Sickafoose's planes made 80 flights on a conservation tour from Loudon's south to Salineville, north to Lisbon and west to the field.

Officials said 240 made the flight and several had to be turned away because of darkness. They advise people to come early this year. The planes will be on the line from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Lunch will be available.

Printed flight guides will tell the fliers what lies ahead. After takeoff, they will see Guilford Lake State Park, tree plantings on the Frank Murray farm, contour strips at the County Home farm, Lisbon and Elkton, state tree plantings and Walter Burbick's Christmas Tree plantation east of Elkton, the Harry Bowman dairy farm, remains of the Sandy and Beaver Canal, the Dike Beede and Edward Opre tree farms, Williamsport Church in Beaver Creek State Park, Clarkson and East Fairfield, Albert Hartley's orchard, Franklin Square, reclaimed spoilbanks on the Harold L. Hawkins farm, strip mining along Depot Rd., the Winona marshes and Zepernick Lake and wildlife area.

The sponsors are the Columbiana Soil and Water Conservation District Board of Supervisors, Cooperative Extension Service and the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

New Operations Head Named By Newspaper

CINCINNATI (AP)—Lawrence W. Nash has been appointed director of operations of the Cincinnati Enquirer, it was announced today by Publisher and President Francis L. Dale. He will succeed Henry E. Drafiel, who has resigned.

Nash, with the Enquirer since 1931, has been assistant business manager.

In his new duties he will be responsible for production, maintenance and purchasing functions of the newspaper.

Democrat Rally Set For July 9

COLUMBIANA — Plans for attending a rally were discussed during an organizational meeting of the Columbiana County Young Democratic Club here Monday.

The affair will be held July 9 at 8 p.m. at the Kimberly Recreation Center on 301 S. Main St.

Featured speakers will be Joseph Loha, candidate for state senator, and Roy Allen, candidate for state representative.

A movie, "A Thousand Days With JFK," will be screened. Lunch will be served.

Rick Altomare of Columbiana presided Monday night.

Street Fair Opening Called 'Pretty Good'

LISBON — Lions Club members report their annual street fair attracted a "pretty good" first day crowd Tuesday night.

An electrical storm soaked tents and concessions on S. Market St. parking lots in the afternoon, but skies cleared for the evening.

A twist contest is scheduled for 7 p.m. Friday and a parade as the finale at 7 p.m. Saturday.

Ride rates will be reduced for a kiddies' matinee from 1 to 5 p.m. Saturday, club members said.

7 Groups Ask Street Work; 23 More Due

With the deadline set Friday, seven neighborhood groups have petitioned for low-cost street surfacing in the city's annual summer program and 23 more petitions still are in circulation.

About six weeks ago, the administration set July 1 as the tentative deadline for the applications, fixing a date that would allow time for enactment of enabling legislation, a legal advertisement for contractors' bids and the award of the contract.

Council has given two of the three required readings to a supplementary appropriation ordinance allocating $11,000 from income tax revenue to pay the city's share of the cost. The total includes $2,000 for new surfacing work and $9,000 for sealing of streets given the first treatment in 1963.

The city pays 50 per cent of the cost of the new work, plus the cost of surfacing any intersections, and pays the entire bill for treatment of streets previously surfaced.

Council is expected to schedule another special meeting, probably Thursday night, for final enactment of the fund measure.

In addition, Council must enact a resolution authorizing the administration to proceed before it can issue a legal advertisement for contractors' bids.

The work usually is done in the hot weather of summer or early fall, when the asphaltic material penetrates best into unsurfaced streets.

Mayor George Willshaw issued a reminder today on the deadline for petitions. He said 42 streets were surfaced in the 1965 program.

New Crosswalk Lines Seen Pedestrian Help

New lines have been added to the crosswalk at 5th and Markets Sts. to indicate to pedestrians that they may cross the intersection diagonally as well as in the conventional way, now that a new "scatter" walk light is in use. Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey said today.

The additional lines were put in place when a city crew repainted the crosswalk markers Tuesday.

The "scatter" light, an innovation in the downtown area, halts traffic in all four directions at one time when the "walk" signal is on. Therefore, pedestrians may cross diagonally to save time, the director pointed out.

Peronism In Argentina

Revolt Trigger Clicks, Another Government Falls

By KENNETH L. DAVIS

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — The armed forces of Argentina, once again in charge of the nation by virtue of their guns, have a built-in revolt trigger.

It's called Peronism after ex-dictator Juan D. Peron.

Any time the followers of Peron get too strong, the trigger clicks and another government falls.

The fear of renewed power for the forces Peron left behind is rooted in memories of his nine-year dictatorship and the hold his movement still has on Argentina's workers. The Peronists control around three million votes in a voting population of 12 million, including most of the trade unions.

The military would prefer no Peronist candidate ever gets on any ballot. But so long as that ballot is in a remote and lightly populated province — such as Neuquen, Chaco or Jujuy — the military generally rolls with the punch. The Peronists control those three provinces.

But if the Peronists show signs they can take Buenos Aires Province, the trigger begins to move. In provincial elections in 1965, it became evident that unless President Arturo Illia's government acquired more strength from some place, the Peronists were a shoo-in to take over the capital province in the provincial elections next March.

Buenos Aires Province not only has one third of Argentina's population. It has a great deal of the industry — and a 25,000-man provincial police force with guns, tear gas and trucks.

The military is much like the heart-lung machine in open heart surgery.

As long as the machine isn't turned on, the civilian legislative, executive and judicial heart of Argentina pumps along.

Let the military turn on the rebellion machine, and the heart is bypassed. The military takes over. It has been so since 1955 when the military threw Peron out with violence and bloodshed.

As long as the military has the guns, its leaders say privately, Peronists never will have a chance to take power again. Since Peronism's appeal comes from the benefits he gave the descamisados, Argentina's "shirtless ones," and since there still are more backs than shirts, the prospects is for more clicks of the revolt trigger.

In Madrid, where Peron has lived since 1960, a close associate said it probably would take "a lot of persuasion to get Peron to go back to Argentina, even if the door was wide open. But that door — or so he thinks today — has been slammed shut by the generals' plot and he seemingly will be happy to continue his life here."

Peron is now 70, and his health declined noticeably after a prostate operation more than two years ago. He drives about the Spanish countryside, writes, reads, exercises, meets with close friends and Argentine politicians who go to Madrid to consult him.

Peron's big push during his dictatorship came from his second wife, the blonde dynamic Evita, and the active politician in the family now is his 34-year-old third wife, Maria Estela "Isabelita" Martinez, also a blonde.

Isabelita returned to Argentina last October, setting off violent demonstrations by anti-Peronists. She said her purpose was to reconcile squabbling leaders of the Peronist movement.

Peronist sources said Tuesday night Isabelita is still in Buenos Aires despite rumors a week ago she had gone to Uruguay en route back to Madrid. Observers in Madrid think she would like to be the new Evita of Peronism.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How can I impart a more attractive look to straw hats?

A.—Straw hats, black or colored, will take on a renewed gloss if you'll go over them lightly with a cloth dipped in alcohol. Or, you can take a paste made of lemon juice and powdered sulphur, applying this with a toothbrush, rubbing the paste in, and drying in the sun or wind. Other tips on the care of all kinds of hats appear in my new household - hints book.

Q.—Is there any way I can tighten a nut in place when I don't have any lock washers on hand?

A.—After twisting the nut into position, use a center punch, placing this in the middle of the bolt end, and then giving it a sharp rap with your hammer. This will spread the bolt slightly and prevent the nut from working off without being forced.

Q.—What can I do if some linen scorches during ironing?

A.—Try cutting an onion in half and rubbing the flat side over the blemish, then soaking the linen in cold water for several hours.

Q.—The tiny screws in my eyeglass frames are continually working loose, and sometimes even falling out. Can you suggest a remedy?

A.—A small drop of clear cement or fingernail polish on top of these screw heads will keep them tightly in place.

Q.—Is there anything I can do when my homemade soup seems to have an excess of fat in it?

A.—You can usually remedy this situation by gently stirring the surface of your soup with an ice cube wrapped in a clean cloth. The fat will congeal on the cold surface, and can be lifted right out of the soup.

Q.—How can I make a brine for curing pork?

A.—By combining two pounds of salt and one ounce of saltpeter with a gallon of water. Test this solution by dropping a raw potato into it. If the spud sinks, add more salt until it bounces to the surface and stays there.

Glenmoor Youth Cited In Hitch-Hiking Case

An attempt to hitch - hike a ride early today on the East Liverpool - Wellsville Rd. cost an 18-year - old district youth considerably more than taxi fare when he faced Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Samuel K. Orr of Glenmoor, pleaded guilty to a State Highway Patrol charge that he "unlawfully solicited a ride," was ordered to pay the $7.50 court costs. The charge was filed under the Ohio Revised Code. The patrol said Orr was cited at 4:20 a. m. He pleaded guilty.

"That's a dangerous practice — someone could get hurt," the judge told Orr. "Don't let it happen again."

Car Door Ripped Off In Parking Incident

Harry Wright, 57, of 414 2nd St., Chester, escaped injury Tuesday afternoon when the door of his 1964 sedan was ripped off by a passing auto when he opened it after parking near his home.

Driver of the oncoming auto was Wella Jane McDonald, 54, of 925 Riverside Ave., Wellsville. Audley Campbell, Chester police chief, said that Wright opened the door in the path of traffic on Pennsylvania Ave. No charges were filed.

He estimated combined damage of $225 to the two vehicles. The accident was timed at 4:05.

Midland Crash Hurts East Liverpool Driver

An East End man received injuries in a two-car collision on Midland Ave. in Midland Tuesday afternoon about 2:20.

Walter E. Morrison, 23, of 1959 Ohio Ave. was treated at City Hospital for bruises of the right knee after his 1959 auto and one driven by Vito Dappalonia, 68, of Smiths Ferry Rd. 1 collided at Midland Ave. and 5th St.

Witnesses said Dappalonia came out from 5th St. and his car struck the left side of the car of Morrison, a Crucible Steel Co. employee who was returning home from an ear cleanup at the Crucible hospital.

Negley Motorist Fined After LaCroft Mishap

A 31-year-old motorist was fined $10 and costs today in Municipal Court on a charge of failure to yield the right-of-way as an aftermath of a two-way crash Monday afternoon in LaCroft.

Norris L. Shafer Jr. of Negley pleaded guilty before Judge Samuel Chertoff to the charge filed by the State Highway Patrol. The court suspended the fine on payment of the $7.50 costs.

The patrol reported Shafer's car was involved in a collision at Densmore and Sherwood Aves. with an auto operated by Vernon R. Rose, 45, of Glenmoor. Damage was moderate, the patrol said in its report to the court.

GIANT CANELABRA. It could be, but it isn't. The item is actually a cast iron nozzle bowl and it has the function of providing steam circulation in turbines.

Man Charged For Bombing In Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—A 46-year-old unemployed construction worker has been charged with the bombing of the home of a Cleveland Heights couple who are in sympathy with fair housing practices.

James R. Sewell of Willoughby Hills, was being held on a charge of placing a bomb with intent to cause injury or damage to persons or property. Sewell was scheduled to appear today before Cleveland Heights Municipal Court Judge Bernard Ostrovsky.

He was arrested at his home about four hours after a bomb was tossed into a downstairs bedroom of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Gard.

Gard and his wife were asleep in an upstairs bedroom when the explosion occurred and were not hurt.

The bomb, which Cleveland Heights Police Chief Edward Gaffney said "could have been dynamite," started a fire and heavily damaged most of the ground floor.

Gard is a former director of Fair Housing Inc. here, a real estate firm supporting elimination of racial discrimination in the sale and purchase of property.

His wife was signed up to participate in the civil rights "March on Washington" in 1963.

Chief Gaffney said the bombing is still under investigation to determine if more than one person is involved.

Police said Sewell was refused to answer questions and has told investigators he does not want a lawyer. Asst. Cleveland Heights Law Director Donald Jaffey said Sewell has a long police record.

Police said they traced Sewell through a license number supplied by witnesses.

Motorists Cited After Boy's Hurt As Car Hits Bike

An East Liverpool motorist was cited after his car struck a youth on a bicycle in Empire Tuesday afternoon at 3:45.

The Wintersville State Highway Patrol said the accident on Route 7 at the junction of Liberty St., Empire, involved a car operated by Larry J. Johnston, 21, of 1209 Allen Ave. and the bicycle ridden by Robert G. Tice Jr., 12, of Empire.

Officers said both were headed north when Johnston started to pass the boy on the bike. The youth then made a left turn and was hit by the front side of the car.

Both vehicles went off the left side of the road, with the car striking a sign and spinning around.

Johnston was cited for improper passing, officers reported.

The boy was admitted to St. John's Hospital, Steubenville, with multiple fractures of the left leg, a possible concussion and body abrasions.

People In News

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI marked today's major Roman Catholic feast day of saints Peter and Paul with a visit of prayer and meditation Tuesday night to the grotto beneath St. Peter's Basilica.

There the pontiff knelt at a small shrine of polished marble erected on the site where St. Peter was believed buried almost 20 centuries ago.

NEW YORK (AP)—Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey says churches should "speak and act on issues of conscience which arise in their communities."

The vice president spoke Tuesday night on receiving the Brotherhood Award on the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Next Friday will be Eisenhower golden wedding day in New York State, by proclamation of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller. It will honor the 50th anniversary of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and his wife, Mamie, who were married July 1, 1916 in Denver, Colo.

DETROIT (AP)—George Boegelein, 43, didn't catch a thief, but he caught plenty of trouble.

When Boegelein saw a thief steal a bag of money Tuesday at a bank entrance, he gave chase in his car, then on foot down an alley, but the thief got away.

Boegelein returned to his car to find it had been broken into and $75 in cash stolen. Also, a truck had rammed it, causing $50 damage.

NEW YORK (AP)—The scooter commuters of Manhattan have staged a "park-in" to support their demands for a change in city parking regulations.

About 35 persons who ride scooters to and from work demonstrated Tuesday that scooters end-to-end parallel to the curb—the legal way—take up more curb space than scooters side-by-side at right angles to the curb—which is illegal.

They want the city to allow angle-parking by scooters and convert some seldom-used taxi stands to scooter spaces.

Brakeman's Injured As Train Jumps Track

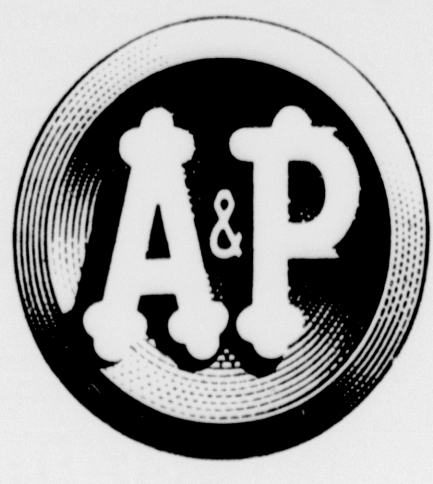

FOSTORIA, Ohio (AP)—A Chesapeake & Ohio freight train jumped the track at the near downtown Columbus street crossing late Tuesday night, injuring one person.

Authorities reported the brakeman who was riding in the caboose of the 160-car train suffered a slight leg injury. The brakeman, whose identity was not immediately known, was treated at Fostoria City Hospital and released.

Some 49 cars left the track and railroad officials said they were at a loss in explaining what caused the mishap. All of the cars in the train were empty.

The wreckage tied up rail and auto traffic which officials hoped to have cleared by noon today.

The popularity of Florida for summer vacations is rising steadily. Last year more than a third of the year's vacationing visitors came in June, July and August.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I know you receive many letters from unwed mothers because you have printed them. Why don't you ever publish a letter from an unwed father?

You, Ann Landers, have done more to damage the image of the unwed father than anyone in this country and I resent it. My son is a lovely young man, just 19 years of age, and every time you print a letter from an unwed mother he shows it to me and says, "Why doesn't Ann Landers ever say anything good about us — we have a side, too."

Are you so blind that you don't realize some girls run after boys, pester them, get them full of liquor and then offer themselves in such a way that no male could refuse?

This is exactly what happened to my son, and to some of his fine friends, too. Yet the boy always gets called the terrible names and ends up with a black eye. I dare you to print this — MOTHER OF A GOOD SON.

Dear Mother: I have yet to hear from an unwed mother who wouldn't cheerfully take the black eye in exchange for what she gets left with.

Sorry, I don't have any good conduct medals lying around for the unwed fathers. And I don't have any advice for them either. They don't need my list of maternity homes. They can go right on living as they always have — continuing at their jobs or remaining in school.

Unfortunately, when a foolish young couple decides to "have fun now — pay later," it's the female who does the paying.

Sales Pitch

Dear Ann: I'm a salesman in a large department store. Like most salesmen of major items (furniture, rugs, jewelry, refrigerators, stoves, etc.) I work on commission.

Last week I spent the better part of two days with three couples. They asked dozens of questions, which I was happy to answer. That's why I'm here. I gave them my card and said if they decided to buy I'd be happy to help them.

At the end of the week I followed up by telephoning these couples and all three told me they had been in the store and bought the item from someone who just happened to be standing there. They all added, "You aren't on commission are you?"

Well, on behalf of most salespeople of major items, I'd like to say "I am on commission. This is how I make my living. When I spend hours with a customer I expect him to return to me if he decides to buy."

Thank you, Ann Landers, for letting me have my say. —NO SALE.

Dear No: You just made a very nice sale, my friend.

Sweet Tooth Cured In Three Weeks

What can make reducing easier? Leave off the sweets and you will stop the rebound to hunger.

One happy dieter reported: "To my complete amazement, I found that by skipping the afternoon sweet snack and rich desserts, I no longer felt hungry between meals. I know now that if you do not feed a 'sweet tooth' you lose your craving for sweets. It took me about three weeks but, from then on, reducing was easy and pleasant. This is something you have to experience to believe. Twenty-five pounds off has made a believer out of me. The best part is that that was two and a half years ago, and I have held the weightline."

DIETERS, why not try the plan for three weeks? An understanding of the body's physical reaction to sweets will show why fast burning carbohydrates create a craving for more sweets. It has to do with blood sugar levels. Excessive sweets stimulate a marked out-pouring of insulin, which in turn lowers the blood sugar level, and you experience a rebound to hunger.

This sharp reaction does not happen to everyone. But if you crave sweets you may reasonably suspect that you are overstimulating the pancreas to secrete insulin. The surplus insulin lowers the concentration of sugar in the blood and creates an artificial hunger. This is happening because you are eating too many sweets.

Talk with your doctor about it. If he suggests a diet, it will be a balanced menu that features foods which burn more slowly. The diet will be high in protein, for protein provides energy at an even rate. It takes the body several hours to convert half its protein into sugar, and, in the meantime, you do not feel hungry.

The more complex carbohydrates such as furnished in potato, bread and cereal, must be broken down further thereby releasing sugar more slowly. On balanced meals, which include protein and a starchy food, you feel satisfied. And you avoid the rebound that follows the eating of excess sweets.

AS THE writer of the letter pointed out, this you have to experience to believe.

Are you game to try the plan for three weeks? Eat three moderate meals a day. At each meal include a protein food — an egg, a half cup serving of cottage cheese, or a 4-ounce serving of lean meat, fish or chicken (cooked weight). At 4 in the afternoon have an energy boost — a glass of buttermilk, a cube of cheese or a piece of bread and butter with a cup of tea. Forego sweets.

At the end of three weeks you will not crave sweets. You will lose weight and you will avoid the post-sweet-swing to renewed hunger.

Educator Claimed

ATTLEBORO, Mass. (AP) — Dr. Donald L. Clark, 77, professor emeritus of rhetoric at Columbia University, died Monday. Clark was a professor of rhetoric at Columbia from 1918 to 1957.

There were 335 women in U.S. state houses of representatives or assemblies and 35 in state senates last year.

You got your message before the eyes of millions of customers.

And now I'd like to add a word: When a salesman hands you a card, that's the hint and here's the message: "I have time and energy invested in you. If you return to buy, I hope you will remember to ask for me."

Unforgiving Gals

Dear Ann: My mother and dad were a grand couple. Mother passed away last November.

Fifteen years ago, when Dad was in his early 50s, he had a torrid affair with a married woman who lives in this city. She was well known and it was an unpleasant, gossip sort of thing that hurt Mother deeply. The other woman is a widow now and Dad has taken her to dinner a few times. We just learned of his renewed interest. Naturally, we are furious. Mother forgave him but we can't. Any advice? — DAUGHTERS.

Dear Daughters: If your mother forgave him you can — and you should. Life is for the living.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Bids Expected Tuesday On Ohio Bus Buying Plan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state has assurances today that school bus body makers and dealers will submit bids next Tuesday under Ohio's court-approved plan for statewide pricing of school buses.

Assistant Atty. Gen. Sam Lopeman said he received the assurances Tuesday at a meeting with a dozen body representatives and their counsel.

Although chassis manufacturers and dealers submitted bids recently on schedule, none were received from body representatives.

"If we don't get any bids," Lopeman said after the session, "I think we would request the Justice Department to investigate because it would be a good indication of collusion not to bid."

Unsuccessful court litigation, only recently resolved, has created what state officials called a school transportation crisis. No new buses could be purchased during the dispute.
